Graphs on Gas Usage Show Habits of Life

Starting about 6 every morning these cold days, you and your neighbors begin your day. You turn up your space heaters, start breakfast, turn on hot water for shaving and bathing. Like a great, unseen monitor, graphs at the Southern California Gas Co. record all this activity, with sharply inclining lines the consumption of gas soars from the early morning low.

They score again when served at a table heavy meals (Sherbets are a little richer than less, but not quite as heavy as ice creams.) And their fruity flavor makes them perfect follow-ups for meals that feature highly-seasoned dishes. You'll be particularly proud to serve luscious sherbets that you make in the freezer, section of your refrigerator or in your home freezer. Plan on about two hours for freezing and then allow an extra few hours for the flavor to mellow.

Mix a favorite recipe or use a package and cake mix, any, bake your cake in a square or rectangular pan. Then treat it to a broiler topper right in the pan. Broiler toppers are tasty frosting mixtures that are spread on a cake while it is still warm. Then the whole thing is popped under the broiler flame for melting and light toasting. Use a medium flame and place the pan so the cake topper is about four inches from the flame. LEMON COCONUT TOPPER 4 Tbsp. butter 1/2 C. granulated sugar 1/2 C. brown sugar 1/2 C. shredded coconut 1 Tbsp. grated lemon rind 2 Tbsp. lemon juice Cream butter to soften. Cream in sugars and blend in coconut, lemon rind and juice. Spread over baked cake. Broil under medium flame until lightly browned. PINEAPPLE-NUT TOPPER 1/2 C. sugar 1 Tbsp. butter 1/2 C. well-drained crushed pineapple 1/4 tsp. nutmeg 1/2 C. coarsely chopped nuts Cream sugar into butter. Blend in other ingredients. Spread over hot cake in pan. Broil under medium flame until lightly browned. PEANUT TOPPER 4 Tbsp. chunk-style peanut butter 4 Tbsp. butter 1/2 C. sugar 1/2 C. flour 2 Tbsp. strong coffee Cream peanut butter and butter. Mix sugar and flour and blend into creamed mixture. Add coffee and peanuts. Spread over hot cake in pan. Broil under medium flame until brown and bubbly. STREUSEL TOPPER 1/2 C. sugar 2 Tbsp. flour 1 Tbsp. cinnamon 2 Tbsp. butter 1/2 C. broken nuts Mix sugar, flour and cinnamon. Cut in butter to make crumbly mixture. Add nuts. Sprinkle over top of baked cake in pan. Broil under medium flame until lightly browned. SOUR CREAM-NUT TOPPER 1/2 C. fine soft bread crumbs (pressed down) 1/2 C. granulated sugar 1/2 C. brown sugar 1/2 C. chopped nuts 2 Tbsp. grated orange rind 1/2 C. sour cream Mix ingredients together in order given. Spread over baked cake in pan. Broil under medium flame until lightly browned.

MARGIE EWEN Home Service Representative Southern California Gas Co. GOOD SALADS MAKE MEALS BETTER Good salads make good meals even better. They add a special welcome coolness to hot weather meals. Give salads and their makings extra consideration. Then listen to the family call for more. Work for variety in ingredients and in seasonings and feature more salad servings all summer long. Here are a few tips to remind you of some important points about salad making. TIPS ON SALAD MAKING Select fresh greens and use them before they lose their crisp tender texture. Be sure greens are chilled and crisp. Wash them and cut parts that can't be used. Drain and store in the hydrator pan of your refrigerator to keep them at their best. Greens keep best when the hydrator pan is fairly full. As the supply diminishes, push greens to one side of pan and cover with waxed paper or put them into a plastic refrigerator bag to hold the moisture. Serve salads chilled and be sure the plates are cold, too. Naturally, hot potato salad and hot slaw are exceptions to this rule.
