

CHP Calls for End of Highway Deaths in State

California's traffic death toll of 799 for the first three months of 1956 is 18 per cent higher than the same period last year according to provisional figures released Friday by the California Highway Patrol.

"If this increased rate is maintained through the balance of this year, we will record the worst traffic fatality score of our history," declared Patrol Commissioner E. R. Caldwell. "Even a 7 per cent increase for the year will exceed the all time traffic death record of 8664 set in 1946.

The increasing traffic death toll presents a definite challenge to everyone concerned with the problem," Caldwell continued.

"The Highway Patrol, knowing that about 90 per cent of these deaths are caused by traffic violations, expects to meet this challenge with continued firm and impartial enforcement directed toward reducing the number of accident causing violations," he said. "The challenge must also be met by every individual interested in stopping the continuing slaughter on our highways. Obey the rules and avoid becoming a traffic victim."
