

Job's Daughters' Seventh Annual Style Show Aug. 29

"Bells on Fashion" has been chosen as the theme for the seventh annual fashion show to be staged by the Torrance Bethel of Job's Daughters. This year's show will be held at the Masonic Temple, 2326 Cabrillo, on Aug. 29 at 12:30. A salad course will be served prior to the show at which Susan Babcock, honored queen, will serve as commentator. Back-to-school fashions, provided by local merchants, will be modeled by Jobies and their sisters. Mothers of Jobies will model more mature fashions. A number of door prizes donated by merchants will also be awarded. Linda Thayne assisted by Jeannette Wright has announced that the "bell" theme will be used in decorating. Kay Smith is handling the publicity for the affair and Sharon Neely is in charge of tickets. Sharon has announced that tickets may be purchased from any Job's Daughter and will also be available at the door.

Five Sisters Together Here For First Time in 34 Years

A reunion which brought together five sisters for the first time in 34 years, was held Sunday at the home of Mrs. P. E. Mellor of 18249 Ashley Ave., Torrance. Mrs. Armand Mosler of Long Beach, mother of Mrs. Mellor, greeted her four sisters who had been brought together by the visit of Mrs. A. L. Hiatt of Moxee, Washington. Other sisters are Mrs. E. R. Wallen of Santa Ana, Mrs. W. R. Albright of Tulare, Calif., and Mrs. John Downey of San Diego. Mrs. Downey and Mrs. Wallen are twin sisters.

Last time all five of the sisters were together was at the funeral of their mother in Boise, Idaho, in 1922. Another sister, Miss Pauline Whittman, who is ill in a hospital in Washington, was unable to attend. Present at the celebration were 27 relatives, many of whom had grown children which the sisters were becoming acquainted with for the first time. A dinner was served picnic style and decorations included a large sign over the fireplace welcoming the five sisters and a cake inscribed in their honor.
