

Color Television Would Have Added a Rosy Glow to Program

By VERA C. WRIGHT
FR 2-2288

I became more than just a "wee bit" alarmed last week for upon turning on my television, set around 10:30 a.m. I discovered the face of a friend of mine, Mrs. Kenneth McVey, of 3825 W. 178th St., and while tuning the sound in properly I couldn't believe my eyes for she proceeded to disrobe! That was what I thought but with the sound on I was informed that she was taking part in a stunt where she was to put on a sweater and then remove it and hand it to her partner. Unfortunately, Naomi's sweater (her very own) started to peel off also! Bill Welch was very happy that it wasn't on color TV for our friend was really blushing! Many different rumors have been started since so thought I had better relate the true facts and clear things up!

Very happy to relate that little Michael Newton, 18521 Amie St., is well on his way to recovery under the watchful eye of his sweet mom, Betty Jo Newton.

Eating a piece of angel food cake baked by the lovely Mary Espinosa of 18545 Amie St. is like biting into a little bit of heaven for that gal is a marvelous cook!

Get-well wishes are extended to Helen Burch, of 18229 Roslin Ave., who has been the victim of a serious infection.

Lucky David Minear of Luray, Kan., who is residing in North Torrance, is really kept up to date on happenings back home with the weekly paper that is sent to him by his wife.

Get-well wishes are also extended to Marge Casteel who has been bothered with a kidney ailment. Everyone is hoping that this does not mean hospitalization for the pert young newlywed.

Have never seen anyone as happy as Mrs. Jerry Westmoreland upon the return of her son, Jerry Dan, from his service assignment. Will have the complete details in the next column.

Sewing groups are getting together all over the El Nido School area for the El Nido PTA is getting ready for the bazaar which they will have the early part of December. Busiest and most excited person concerning the project is Mrs. Elmer Ecker, president of the association.

Noted Mrs. Joseph Bray, of 18344 Roslin Ave., was sporting a brand new haircut which is very becoming. This gal gets younger every time I see her.

Paul W. Herring, 18312 Roslin Ave., continues to amaze neighbors with the wonderful work he is doing on his cupboards. It's no wonder that Mrs. Herring got in the mood and is painting her kitchen.

Neighbors missing the vivacious Gloria Hernandez should know that she is enjoying a wonderful vacation in Texas! Her mother is doing a wonderful job keeping up the yardwork while her daughter is gone.

Pauline Parsons, of 18313 Regina Ave., and Philo Mellor, of 18329 Ashley Ave., both deserve a warm round of applause as well as an orchid for they both managed to get to the polls to vote even though they had just arrived home from the hospital and were both weak as kittens!

Mrs. Russell Ross was delighted with the added year her birthday left her this year for her husband, son and her two best friends, Mr. and Mrs. James Scott took her to a local restaurant for dinner, gave her an orchid, then took her to the cinema for a very enjoyable evening.

Mrs. Dale Saunders celebrated her birthday just a wee bit differently for every day for the past year every time her 12-year-old son and 10-year-old daughter have asked her to join them in some frivolity she put them off by saying, "I will, on my birthday!" She discovered this does not pay off for she spent three hours at the Long Beach Pike. Horseback riding was also on the agenda along with a game of miniature golf and a swim at the beach, so is it no wonder that Mrs. Saunders said "no" to having dinner out, with dancing later on in the evening. I can see why Mr. Saunders nearly fainted. Really!

Mrs. V. W. Cage will never brag again about her bowling. Right after informing the six friends of hers in attendance that she was a very good bowler, she slipped, dropped her bowling ball, and broke two toes. The ball somehow flipped over and hit one of her friends, Jai Jones, on the right knee and he is now featuring a black, blue and green knee while Vivian is still unable to put on her right shoe!

David Reed Hooker is becoming well known for his pies now that his favorite toy is a silver metal pie truck! Lucky boy.

Although delighted that Richard and Pat Perrin will be the proud owners of a new home in Arcadia we hope that they will not forget us when they move.

Danny Blair very happily celebrated his 21st birthday with the help of guests at the party given for him by mom and dad, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Blair. The patio was a fair-land with tiny Japanese lanterns and gardenias gracing the six small tables set with barbecued chickens, several salads, corn-on-the-cob, cornbread, a birthday cake with 21 layers, homemade ice cream, and cake. Dancing and charades completed the evening where the delighted Danny was presented with a new suit, shirts, socks and ties to match.

Divinity and penche fudge as well as the old-fashioned chocolate fudge is making its way into two-pound coffee cans by the women in the A. W. Harding family, mom Helen and daughters, Shirley and Kathleen, who have been cooking candy, at least one batch a day, for the past two weeks. They claim that this will continue till one week before Christmas!

Mrs. John Jacobs was really disgusted upon discovering that her supposedly rose-colored hat was a red monstrosity! She had almost made up her mind that she was color-blind but another trip to the fashionable hat shop in the beach area disclosed the fact that they had tricky lighting!

The "World Affairs Council" presentation at El Camino College in the Campus theater on Nov. 15 promises to be a miniature United Nations Security Council in action with a parade of distinguished speakers who represent one part of the world in a four-way debate on the great issues of the day. The featured speakers are Honorable Camille Chautemps, former vice president and four times premier of France; John C. Metcalfe, serving as chairman of the council, and is the editor of the American Syndicate; Arthur Webb, who is the dean of British correspondents in Washington; Dr. Amolak Ram Mehta, the distinguished Indian diplomat.

Remember to have the American flag on display in your home on Veterans' Day, Monday, Nov. 12.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. R. Amador on their 30th wedding anniversary. Mary and Robert celebrated by having dinner at the Steak Knife and enjoyed an evening of bowling along with sons Tony, Bob, and daughter Marie.

Ice cream never tastes as good as when made at home with the entire family taking part. Naturally the Patrick McGinnis family had the best ice cream in town last week end when they made a gallon of vanilla, a gallon of strawberry, and a gallon of banana ice cream!

Do you know the easiest way of getting a hole on the sole of your shoes? Well, Jimmy Hall knows, for he skated with only one skate on much

A stuffed turkey dinner, complete with all the trimmings, is a gourmet's delight when prepared very carefully by a lovely 15-year-old as happened to the Stoner family when Diane prepared Sunday dinner for her family and friends. It's no wonder brother Chuck (12 years old) dashed out and purchased his sister an orchid corsage!

Among the Sunday crowd at a local miniature golf course 7-year-old Richard was seen showing his father, Dick West, who incidentally has been playing this game for over 20 years, that he could be beaten!

Best wishes are being extended to Philo Mellor, 18249 Ashley Ave., who recently underwent surgery and is now at home. A card would be greatly appreciated.

Eleanor and Eddie Harris are to be congratulated on their bowling success. After just three tries at the game they were invited to become part of a bowling league!

High Schools Participate In Band Day

Bandmen and baton twirlers from Torrance and North High Schools were guests of El Camino College Saturday in the annual marching clinic sponsored by the Warrior Band. Accompanied by their directors, representatives from Torrance, North Torrance, Hawthorne, El Segundo, Leuzinger, Inglewood, Morningside, Redondo Beach, Mira Costa, Washington, Junipero Serra, Gardena and Narbonne took part in the activities.

Instruction was given by selected members of the El Camino band in marching and field maneuvers. The Warrior drum majorettes helped in twirling activities. Each school selected its best field routine for presentation during festivities at the El Camino-L.A. Valley football game Saturday night in the Warrior Stadium.

El Camino band director Calvin Greer stated that the purpose of these clinics is both to improve the performance of the bandmen and to acquaint them with the facilities available at EC for continuation of their musical activities.
