

CITY'S FAIR PAVILION... This artist's drawing shows the Torrance Pavilion which will be placed at the Los Angeles County Fair this fall. The display will feature the "All-America City" citation which the city received and will display other outstanding features of the city. This will mark the first time that the city had a display in the fair.

LAMP SHADES UNLIMITED... Lampshades of all sizes, shapes, and colors will be displayed at the Water Park Recreation Center, 242nd and Ocean Ave., Thursday, from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. The shades all were made in lampshade making classes taught by Mrs. Viola Boas. Putting last-minute touches on her shades are Mims, Connie Bleifelt, Pauline Spore, and Eleanor Kendall.

New Aviation High Selects Four Coaches

Four coaches from the South Bay area will make up the nucleus of the athletic department at Aviation High School when it opens its doors in September.

Taking over as athletic director and football coach will be Ed Hyde who is presently at Mira Costa High School.

Another transfer from Mira Costa will be Ken Browning who will take the helm of the baseball team.

Successful Torrance High basketball coach Fanny Markham, who guided the Tartars to a CIF berth this spring, will move to Aviation as hoop mentor while completing the staff.

Lumian from Morningside High School.

Man Posing As Deputy Takes $40

A search is on today for a man who posed as a sheriff's deputy and took $40 from a cafe owner by promising to get him a driver's license without a test. Vincenzo Azzariti, owner of the cafe at 2700 Redondo Beach Blvd., told officers the impersonator identified himself as Sgt. Dave Sheppard of the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Office. "Sheppard" claimed he knew several Torrance police officers and FBI agents and offered to arrange to obtain a driver's license without the legal formalities. Azzariti told officers he gave the man $40 when he said he wanted to go get his wife and bring her back to dinner. When the alleged officer failed to return for several hours, the cafe owner called the police.
