ANTI-SMOG RIDE POOLS SET AT GP

For the third consecutive year, General Petroleum Corp, employe car pools will fight smog, according to P. S. Ma-gruder, executive vice presi-dent.

Inese voluntary car pools have proved so successful in the past that we are reactivating them again this year on smog alert days," Magruder said.

The share-the-ride program, when working at its peak, removes about 800 cars from traffic, Magruder estimated. Some 3300 employes in the company's home office building Los Angeles, its plant and offices in Vernon and its Torrance refinery are affected.

Car pool drivers are notified by telephone and by lobby bulletin board the day before a smog warning is forecast.
