

Carols of Many Lands Sung Here

The Spirit of Christmas descended on the Torrance High School campus Friday with the singing of Christmas carols by groups of students from the foreign language classes and the Tartar Choir.

The foreign language students, under the direction of Mrs. Kennedy, Spanish teacher, toured the Torrance High School campus singing typical Christmas carols, in French, Spanish and Latin.

The Tartar Choir, under the direction of Jim Nichols, toured the campus and the district administration offices from 11 a.m. to 12 noon.

The singing of Christmas carols by the Tartar Choir in the halls of Torrance High and the district offices has become a musical tradition.

'Holy Night' To Be Shown Mothers Club

"Holy Night," the first of 12 episodes in the newly-released Living Christ motion picture series, is to be shown today at 6:30 p.m., as a special "Life of Christ" study course under the auspices of the South Bay Church of God gets under way in the sanctuary.

Photographed in full color "Holy Night" is a faithful Bible account of Isaiah's prophecy and its fulfillment, covering the journey to Bethlehem, the manger scene, and the adoration of the shepherds. The 12 episodes of the Living Christ motion picture series were four years in the making by Cathedral Films.

Rev. Clifford L. Tierney, pastor of the church, said the public is invited to attend the entire series, which are approximately 30 minutes in length.

Nativity Story To Be Portrayed This Evening

The story of the Nativity will be portrayed in living tableaux as it is told in song and scripture when the annual Christmas Pageant of Neighborhood Church in Palos Verdes Estates is presented in the sanctuary and gardens of the church this evening at 6 and 7:30 o'clock.

Torchlight will lead the processions to six richly costumed and lighted scenes depicting the Christmas story laid in the beautiful setting of the church gardens, following the reading of the Nativity Scriptures by the Rev. Richard A. Dawson and special music in the sanctuary.

As celebrants view tableaux of "The Annunciation," "Shepherds in the Fields," "Mary and Joseph at the Inn," "The Journey of the Three Kings," "The Court of King Herod" and "The Creche," narration and the singing of traditional carols will proclaim the Holy story.

THE COVENANT Choir, under the direction of Dan Kammeyer, will sing "The Three Kings." Appearing as soloist in the pageant will be Mrs. Harper Wilson, soprano and harpist. David Fay will play the carillon and organ.

The Christmas Pageant of Neighborhood Church is a continuation of a tradition in Palos Verdes Estates that began nearly thirty years ago when Mrs. Elizabeth Schellenberg first directed the pageant and all residents participated in the Procession of the Posada.

Mrs. David Dessau is directing the pageant this year that will be presented by a cast and chorus of nearly one hundred persons.
