TORRANCE HERALD FEBRUARY 20, 1958 Eighteen EDITORIALS

Still a Good Example

On Saturday we observe George Washington's birthday. This year, as always, speakers will extoll the simple and great virtues of our first president and the story of the cherry tree will be retold in symbol and in verse.

George Washington was so great and so able in so many different ways that historians the world over still find him a fresh new subject. They have picked him apart and plucked at the half truths and half legends that have taken root and spread through the years. They still haven't proved that he never practiced falsehood as a political policy and none has ever challenged his bravery.

If George Washington had left nothing more than his integrity of thinking and actiou, he would have given the American people and the world a wonderful heritage. Of course, he left much more, not the least his wholehearted belief in the ability of the American people to govern themselves. A lesser man would have yielded to the blandishments of those who would have given America her first king.

The country has strayed a long way from the ethical standards of the founders of this country. The "quickbuck" philosophy in business, the growing tendency to take lightly the obligations of good citizenship and basic idealism are among the dangerous manifestations that do not contribute to the stature of Americans as individuals or as a nation.

The incident of the cherry tree may be a legend but it still provides a lesson that should be basic in the training of very young and a good example for people of all ages.

Flaunting the Law

Apparent flaunting of police authority is evidenced in reports of recent burglaries in Torrance-many of them at established business houses fronting on major thoroughfares

Sunday's HERALD reported three such burglaries in one story: the theft of steaks and cash from a Walteria meat market on busy Pacific Coast Hwy., clothes from a Torrance Blvd. cleaning establishment, and beer and cash from a tavern on Hawthorne Ave.

Complaints that police patrols are inadequate are probably accurate when you consider that Torrance police are covering a 20 square mile area with a minimum of officers.

Complaints that officers are not properly assigned are more disturbing, however. Many residents and businessmen still like to see the officer on the "beat." Officers walking beats are usually the best sources of information on what is going on in a neighborhood.

It instills confidence and a feeling of security to have a uniformed officer rattling doors up and down the street at night to see that "everything's all right."

Aside from the crime prevention value of foot officers, it's good public relations. We suggest that the top police department officials give serious thought to the assignment. of their patrols-and make sure they are doing the best they can in providing the maximum coverage of the sprawling city.

Unavailable for Work

Cancellation of the unemployment benefits for a young Torrance man because he was being held at the point of a gun by two dangerous desperadoes, and thus "unavailable" for work, strikes us as a rediculous interpretation of a law meant to assure just operation of the unemployment insurance benefit program.

The action of the local department of employment has led some to wonder if employes of the department had their pay canceled on the morning of April 4, 1956, when they showed up to work and found their building "unavailable" for work.

important.

the

It had burned down during the night.

THE FREELANCER by Tom Rische

Get Professional Assistance

want to marry her when she graduates this spring. She'll Dear Ann: We have a daughter not quite 16 who is giving us no end of trouble. . 18.

She says she loves me but she doesn't want to get mar-ried yet. She wants to work at least a year and help her folks get out of debt. They At present she's seeing a boy 23 years old. He rides her around school during lunch hour and picks her up when classes are over. We don't like him but nothing we say makes any difference. We can't trust her out of had a car accident in Decem ber and they owe some big our sight. I've sent her to the corner store for a loaf of I say the bills are not her responsibility and she's a fool to think this way. After all, bread and she has stayed out ntil the next morning. The police have found her why should I get cheated out of a year's happiness just besleeping in the park more than once. The minister has cause her old man didn't see the detour sigh? Please com-ment on this.—Bob. talked to her, and so have the school authorities, but nothing seems to help. My Dear Bob (spelling it with only one "o" are you?): If your girl wants to put off marriage for a year to help her folks get out of debt you have no right to horn in with your objections. wife is a nervous wreck be-cause of this girl. Our other children never caused us any

Explain that your budget and home can accommodate only so much animal life. The She sounds like a pearl of a girl. The leap from high school to the bridal path can boys should be asked to con-tribute a part of their allowbe a pretty big one, and may-be she's not quite ready for it. It could be that she wants ance to pay for the care and feed of the menagerie. B e i n g "tender - hearted" an extra year to decide whether or not you're the alone is no virtue. It is the responsibility of caring for the pets from which they will $\dot{\alpha}$   $\dot{\alpha}$   $\dot{\alpha}$ Dear Ann: My two sons, 8 and 10, are just too tender-hearted. At present we have three stray cats in the base-ment, a young airdale who must belong to somebody, and a bird with a broken guy who blames everybody else because be can't hold a (Ann Landers will be happy to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The HER-ALD and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (C) 1958, Field Enterprises, Inc. \* \* In some cases, the lie is in-tentional and sometimes a mere rationalization. The ef-mere rationalization. The ef-fect can be equally deadly. All of us, however, are liars to some extent and, for the peace of society, it's prob-ably a good thing. Even George Washington might have been beaned with a frying pan for telling Mar-tha's age.

"Often a well-turned ankle is followed by a heel." --Tony Pettito.

"Old Saw Rewritten: If a man makes a better mouse-trap, the Internal Revenue Service will beat a path to his door."—Changing Times. "Russian teen-agers think about scientists the way our young people think and dream about becoming movie stars." — Dr. Edward Teller, atomic expert.

AFTER HOURS by John Morley

Charity Still Begins at Home tem of free enterprise. Gov-

We have no argument with the principle of our for-eign policy that our security that our securet that our securet that our securet that our security that o is tied up closely with the strength of our allies abroad. Our state department and the White House are better in-formed of all the facts in-volved than are columnists and correspondents. We have always conceded that our government has the most auhoritative facts upon which to base policy decisions--we do not.

It is very obvious to this correspondent that without our 456 bases in Europe and the Near East the free world would be endangered by Com-munist expansion. We cover these bases constantly and know from firsthand experi-ence how important they are to our counting to our security. * * *

We are convinced from our experience abroad over the past 26 years that without this military assistance Com-munism would take over. If this happened, the United States will be isolated and in time challenged by the over. States will be isolated and in time challenged by the over-whelming power of Commu-nism. Our way of life would be endangered by a three-pronged Communist attack; either by war, by freezing the raw materials which we need for our very existence, or by shutting off the world markets for our goods. We markets for our goods. We would be paralyzed as a na-tion in no time.

For all practical purposes the idea of isolation in this atomic age is unthinkable. No one who knows the facts can dispute this.

wing. Upstairs we have two parakeets, a Boston terrier, four turtles, and a tankful of the way the boys drag home /ery stray four-footed and feathered thing they see. But I'm the one who has to clean up after the animals and stretch the family budget to pay vet bills and buy food for

I hate to discourage them from showing kindness to all living things, but I'm tired of taking the brunt of it. What can I do?—Zoo Keeper.

It's wonderful that your boys love "all living things" but they must be taught that love carries with it responsi-bilities. They must not be permitted to bring home animals and unload them on you.

learn the lesson of unselfish-ness. Just toting creatures home is not enough. The giving should start from there.

Confidentially: Nervous

Girl: Calm down, be natural and don't knock yourself out making overnight "improve-ments." Dress and behave as you normally would. If his folks are as nice as their son they'll accept you at once.

and Quote

My husband thinks it's cute tropical fish.

the collection.

* * * But it appears to this cor-respondent that the United States in its effort to bolster States in its effort to bolster this line of defense abroad is neglecting dangerously the first line of defense at home. While we are straining our economy to the utmost for foreign aid and defense, we are not seriously making any effort in cut costs on noneffort to cut costs on non-defense expenditures.

The recent raising of the debt ceiling to $280 billion is a sure sign that Congress is a sure sign that Congress has no intentions of economiz-ing or reducing the budget on non-defense spending. We believe this to be wrong and dangerous. The interest of nearly $8 billion a year on our present public debt is twice as much as the entire budget of the United States budget of the United States 25 years ago.

Something is bound to give as the American people can-not sustain this back-breaking financial burden indefinitely There is a financial limit beyond which the economy could crack up. Economists are warning us that the limit has been reached. We a heading for real trouble. We are * *

h h h The new budget proposed is $73.9 billion ... some $45.8 billion goes for defense. Let's assume that all this money is needed for defense. Civil benefits...$5 billion for vet-erans ... $4.6 billion for farmer's subsidies, etc. ... $3.6 billion for state aid, ed-ucation, health ... $1.6 for housing and commerce ... $1.5 for natural resources, etc., make up most of the balance of the new budget. The president informed us The president informed us that he prefers increasing the debt ceiling to levying more taxes, obviously upon the urg-ing of his political advisers.

LAW IN ACTION

increases the interest on the public debt, which now stands at $8 billion a year. It also at $8 billion a year. It also mortgages the security of the nation for generations. Should a serious business decline occur, there would be no cushion with such a burden-some debt to pay interest on. All this spells trouble.

are a national disgrace, yet politicians from farm and dairy states are vehemently opposing any proposal for re-duction of prevailing subsi-dice Drevailing subsi-The president has called for salary increases for gov-ernment workers and the armed forces are underpaid. dies. Pressure groups for the veterans, for bargain govern-ment housing, for unemploy-Good officers are resigning to enter more lucrative positions in industry. Some in-creases are justified among low paid government personment compensation, for free medical services, for security from the cradle to the grave, nel. But in order to afford these necessary increased ex-penditures we must curtail somewhere else to stop this fantastic drain on the taxfor socialistic schemes, for economic aid to billions of unfortunate people all over the world ... all these, while meriting our consideration, are also dangerously impos-ing unor America and our ing upon America and our way of life.  $4^{+}$   $4^{+}$   $4^{+}$ If we must have $45.8 bil-lions for non-defense . . . we cannot afford added billions ernment is forced to penalize sucess in business by imposing higher taxes for success

By fantastic spending, gov-ernment is chiefly responsible for inflation. This has ruin millions of our citizens on fix ed incomes. Politicians balk at every suggestion to curtail spending in their states. Present farm subsidies for non-defense spending no matter how important they are. Government should con-sider curtailing on all non-defense spending until the present Communist threat has subsided. When this occurs, we can again afford to re sume our non-defense octivi-ties on a generous scale. In our opinion, the preservation of America and our way of life comes first. Economists are warning us that we cannot carry a $45.8 billion defense budget and a

Is it prudent, for instance, to propose federal aid to edu-cation at this time?? Is it prudent to carry on a federal road program? Is it prudent road program? Is it prudent to continue federal housing on such a large scale? Is it prudent to continue a $5 bil-lion veterans program? Is it-prudent to build such expen-sive grandiose federal build-ing here and abroad? Is it prudent to launch a U. S. em-bassy building program all bassy building program all over the world at this time? Is it prudent for the government to continue operating enterprises which private en-terprise can handle?

pavers.

Communism is forcing us to deplete our wealth. It is billion defense budget and a $28.1 billion non-defense budget, as we are doing, much longer. The taxpayers have tightened their belts to the point where it has impaired their breathing. It's now the politicians' turn to stop wor-rying about the next election, and think of the next gen-eration . . , not just all over their avowed scheme to bank-rupt us into submission. We personally heard their boasts in Moscow over and over again, that Communism will take us over without war. Between Naziism and Com-munism we have accumulated a $275 billion public debt. Taxes to meet the interest and new and bigger budgets or municating our becoming our eration . . . not just all over the world . . . but in America are ruining our incentive sys-

FROM OUR MAILBOX by Our Readers

... first.

Movie Fare Hit If the theater owners and managers feel no responsibil-

Editor, Torrance Herald: The title All America City bestowed on Torrance last year, while if not fully de-served, at least should give us an incentive and goal to strive for. To attain this goal requires the united efforts of eith officials humans lead ity to the community from which they derive their income, then perhaps it is time city officials, business lead-ers, and we ordinary citizens. At this time I wish to make only one point. It concerns one facet of the businessman's responsibility to the Torrance community. The case in point — our local movie theaters.

The weekly scheduled movies for Torrance area residents comprise, in my opinion, one of the most com-plete collections of trash ever plete collections of trash ever offered to the public. Recent programs have offered to the public such selections as: "Re-form School Girl," "Drag Strip Girl," "I Was a Teenage Werewolf," and a preponder-ance of other material gener-ally conceded not to be ideally suited for the charac-ter development of our teenter development of our teen-age All America citizens.

it had not been

* * *

a reasonable time, which ended it just as though it had been withdrawn.

It varies. The offer could ex-pire in a few minutes in the stock market or last for quite a while, depending upon what a court would think is a reasonable time. But in Smith's case six months was unreasonable.

What is a reasonable time?

It is my personal feeling that this weekly offering of substandard material to our citizens makes a mockery of our title, All America City.

Torrance Herald Established Jan. 1, 1914 to heart talk with them. This failing, surely there are enough responsible citizens in this community to conduct boycott of local theaters until the quality of programs improves. F. B. NOWACK Torrance

This Was His Life

Editor Torrance Herald: As belated as this may be, still have a deep feeling of well-written article and p tures in the HERALD. EARL W. ECKERT,

Ø

our civic leaders have a heart gratitude for the program the children of my school produc-ed for me on "This Is Your Life" and for the fine part you played in it. I appreciate the wonderful, Principal, Crenshaw School.

somebody else and then fill Your child may not look like Shirley Temple either, but she's yours and that's what's in any spicy details they may have missed. This way, the postman's acceptance of a cup of coffee from one of his patrons can become a juicy tale that would make readers trouble.

-I.E.W.

4. "Mommy, where do ba-bies come from?" Sooner or later, this ques-tion is bound to arise in any household where there are children. Until children reach a certain maturity level, it may be just as well to blame everything on the stork. The same may go for the ques-tions of who hangs the stock-ings by the chimney with care and who hippity-hops to tale that would make readers of Confidential blush. Only slightly worse are the chronic liars, who alter the facts at will to suit their own purposes. These range from the salesman who handles nothing by dandy cars driven to church once a week by sweet little old ladies to the

Your daughter is complete-out of control and there isn't one thing you can say to her that will make a particle of difference. Get skilled professional help at once. Contact the Family Service Bureau and they will direct you. Good luck, and chin up. Young people with similar records are being straightened out every day. But this is no job for amateurs. of difference.

for amateurs. * *

Dear Ann: I've been going with a girl for two years. I

What can be do?

Honesty May Be the Best Policy, But-

Can you say, with George Washington, "I cannot tell a lie?" Or would you want to? Shirley Temple either, but Most school children have heard the story of how Washington chopped down a cherngton chopped down a cher-ry tree and then freely admit-ted the deed. For genera-tions, this has been held up as a prime example of how everyone should act. Truth, everyone agrees, is a good thing, but there's such one, so stop pressuring her.

job

Fussley, and how are you?" The person who asks this question isn't asking for a medical history, but is merely being polite. In most cases, being polite. going into all the gory details about how you really feel la-bels you as a bore, neurotic, and/or hypochondriac

2. "I just bought this hat this morning. How do you like it?

The hat may be a real monstrosity, but the person who asks that question doesn't want to hear th etruth. There is no accounting for tastes, so it's usually better to sa merely, "Now, that is a hat! and drop the whole thing right there. 3. "My, what a darling little baby you have!" The little brat may be redfaced and ugly as a withered prune, but there's no point in put the eggs in nests at Eastertime.

or whose family background dates back to Julius Caesar.

These, too, are relatively harmless, although somewhat nerve-wracking,

Slightly more dangerous are the gossips, who repeat what they heard from somebody else who heard it from * * All of these fall in the "lit-tle white lie" category, which includes those untruths or distoritions of truth that are deemed best for everybody concerned. They generally do not hurt anybody and in fact, may help. Everybody is familiar with he blowhard liars — whose war experiences were more harrowing than anybody else's, whose children are smarter than Albert Einstein,

ATER .	STA	R G	AZE	R*
ARIES MAR 22 APR 20 4- 6-34-37	Your Acco To develop read words	Daily Activity G ording to the St message for corresponding	ars. M Thursday,	SEPT 23
44-46-57 TAURUS APR. 21 MAY 21 14-18-24-29	of your Zoc 1 Don't 2 Contacts 3 Favorable 4 Don't	diac birth sign. 31 Be 32 New 33 For 34 The	61 Expansion 62 Calls 63 And 1 64 Of 65 And	63-73-80-82 scorpio OCT 24 NOV 22
654-55-65 GEMINI MAY 22 JUNE 22	5 For 6 Play 7 Expect 8 Travel 9 With 10 Others	35 Systems 36 Personal 37 Lone 38 New 39 Efforts 40 Evening	66 Cruelty 67 To 68 Finances 69 Adopt 70 Others 71 Your	69-71-83-90 SAGITTARIUS NOV 23 DEC 22
CANCER JUNE 23 JUNE 23	11 Friendly 12 Watch 13 Persons 14 Guard 15 Out 16 Delegate	41 Publicity 42 To 43 To 44 Wolf 45 Your 46 Invite 47 Make	72 Interest 73 Groups 74 Moves 75 That 76 Generous 77 It'll	16-22-28-45 51-67-70 CAPTICORN DEC 23 JAN 20
019-21-38-50 64-72-85-88 LEO JULY 24 AUG 23	17 For 18 Domestic 19 Travel 20 Excellent 21 Visit 22 Some	47 Make 48 Fair- 49 Help 50 Places 51 Duties 52 Activities 53 Innovations	78 Will 79 Are 80 Are 81 Be 82 Indicated 83 Ideas	12-15-17-40 52-75-79-87 AQUARIUS JAN. 21 FEB 19
3. 5. 8-23 27-62-68 VIRGO	23 Letters 24 Animals 25 Time 26 Instali 27 Phone 28 Of	54 Theft 55 And 56 And 57 Cooperation 58 Changes	84 Pay 85 If 86 Appreciated	20-25-33-36
26-32-35-47 326-32-35-47 53-58-74	29 From 30 Your Good	59 Minded 60 Others Adverse	90 Entirely 2/20 Neutral	MAR 21 30-39-42-49

"Give a cat shelter, plenty of food and a feeling of security and she will stop catching mice. People are that."—Barry Sullivan. are like "The highest reward for man's toil is not what he gets for it, but what he becomes by it."—John Ruskin.

and another must accept it. Without an offer, no acceptance; with no acceptance, no agreement. But there is often a time within which you can accept the offer. And if not, the offer ends anyhow within a "reasonable time" which is determined by circumstances time, or you may die, or the other party may turn it down directly or by making a counand the parties' intentions. Smith had a set of books which Brown wanted. Brown ter offer. wrote and offered him $200 Here Smith had failed to accept Brown's offer within for the set. Smith didn't answer for six months, and meantime Brown bought a similar set. One day Brown got a letter from Smith, saying "I accept your offer of $200 for the set of books.'

Brown told Smith he'd bought the books elsewhere, but Smith still claimed that his belated "acceptance" had nevertheless sealed the con-tract with Brown.

Member of National Editorial Association, California Newspaper Publishers Association the circumstances within a reasonable time.

There are many ways to end an offer. You may with-Publication office and plant, 1619 Gramercy Ave., Torrance, Calif. draw it, you may say that the offer expires at a given Published Semi-Weckly, Thurs-day and Sunday. Entered as second class matter January 30, 1914, at Post Office, Torrance, California, under act of March 3, 1879.

KING WILLIAMS, Publisher.

GLENN W. PFEIL, General Manager.

REID L. BUNDY, Managing Editor.

Adjudicateo a legal Newspaper by Superior Court, Los Angel County, Adjudicated Decree 2 218470, March 30, 1927.

12 SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Car-rier, 45c a month. Mail subscrip-tions $5.40 a year. Circulation office FA 8-4000

ATTIONAL EDITORIAL