

Veteran Hospitalization Program Changes Reported

Veterans who served in the armed forces only during peacetime, and six-month enlistees, may be eligible for hospitalization by the Veterans Administration if they were discharged for a disability suffered or aggravated in the line of duty.

This was pointed out today by Sara R. Evans, director of the Torrance Area Veterans Service Center, whose office is at 1622 Gramercy Ave.

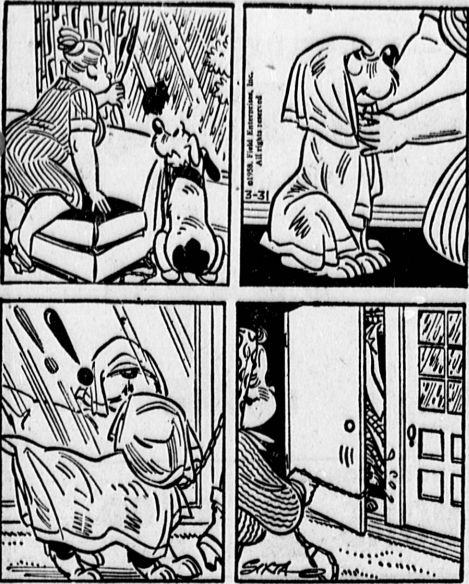

Retired peacetime veterans fall into two special groups for purposes of hospitalization by the Veterans Administration. The groups — and the conditions under which they may be admitted:

1—Until last Jan. 1, those retired from active service must have been receiving disability compensation to qualify for hospitalization. If they chose to take compensation under Public Law 314, and are receiving such compensation, they will have the same entitlement to hospitalization as any veteran receiving compensation.

Since last Jan. 1, retirement has been considered the same as discharge for purposes of hospitalization. Persons retired for disability may be eligible now for hospitalization even though they are not receiving compensation.

2—Persons temporarily or permanently retired for disability, or who receive disability retirement pay, who need hospitalization for chronic diseases, may be furnished hospitalization on the same basis as they were by the service from which they retired.

For example, if the regulations of the service provide for the payment of subsistence by retired personnel, the VA also would charge subsistence.
