A lovely candelabra was situated in the center of the stage and the 12 candles lighted by the girls signified their acceptance of the 10 Girl Scout laws and the more of and slogan.

Output per Manhour has to do some climbing, too

LOCALITES HONORED . . . Honored for 30 and 25 years' service respectively with United States Steel were H. P. Dotson, second from left, assistant general superintendent, and Don Lasell, right, general superintendent, of the Torance Works of Columbia-Geneva Steel Division. Participating in the informal ceremony at the Torance plant were D. E. Rice, general manager—operations, left, and J. D. McCall, vice president—operations, second from right, both of Columbia-Geneva, San Francisco.

Mountain climbers tie themselves together. They don't do it to hold each other back, but so they can climb without getting hurt. Makes sense, but note they have to move together, or there's no progress.

They gotta

together...

If we are ever going to lick inflation, those two chaps are going to have to stick together better than they have been. Output per Manhour is 'way behind.

U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics figures show average hourly earnings of workers in manufacturing industries in the last ten years have risen 59 percent while output per man-hour increased only 27.1 percent in all private industry except farms. The disparity is even greater when all employment costs for hourly and salaried employees are taken into account as they must be.

Output per Manhour

In steel the figures for the same period showed output even farther behind - this despite company investments of millions in improved processes and modern equipment.
