

GARDENERS CHECKLIST

1. Control mildew on tuberous begonias with a fungicide preparation available at your nursery.
2. Planning a party? Why not pick up some pots of bright blooming geraniums or pelargoniums?
3. Tuberous begonias can still be purchased at your nursery. They are truly the most exotic of all the summer flowers.
4. Cut back perennials after blooming to encourage a second show of blossoms in the fall.
5. Don't forget that house plants get hungry and thirsty too in the warm weather.

Summer Park Program Schedule Told

If you're interested in crafts, art, movies, baseball, tournaments, storytime, cook-outs, picnics, concerts, plays, family nights or special events, it will pay you to visit the Torrance park nearest your home some time this week.

Because each park has such a diverse program, the entire family, at one time or another, will find something of interest. The park programs for the week of June 30 are:

Torrance Park
Torrance Park's special event of the week is a Family Day on Friday, July 4. The whole family is invited. Some of the activities which will take place are: 10 a.m.—get acquainted games; 10:30 a.m.—contests and relays; 11:45 a.m.—presentation of awards; Noon—lunch; and at 1:30 p.m., a talent show at the Handbell Club. Two of the events planned for the day are a bean guessing contest and a baby contest.

The schedule for the week at Torrance Park is: crafts and art, Monday through Friday at 10 a.m.; baseball, Monday and Wednesday at 2 p.m.; movie, Tuesday at 3:30, for which there is no charge; and story hour with Elsie Pestoff, Thursday at 1 p.m.

El Nido Park
A patriotic theme called "Red, White and Blue Day" is the special event at El Nido Park on Wednesday, July 2. Special games with a patriotic theme will be played throughout the day. The climax of the day will be a watermelon feed for grownups and children.

El Nido's weekly schedule is: crafts and art, Tuesday morning from 10 a.m. to Noon; baseball, Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday at 2 p.m.; movie and family activity night on Wednesday, 6 p.m. to 7 p.m.—picnic time, 7 to 8 p.m.—game time, and 8:30—movies; story time at 10 a.m. on Tuesday; tournaments, Thursday all day.

The weekly schedule is: crafts, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday at 3:30 p.m.; story time, Wednesday at 1 p.m.; baseball—girls, Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 2

Council Turns Down Bid For More Parking Funds

Efforts of the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce to have the city earmark lines derived from parking meter violations turned to the off-street parking funds were turned down by the city council this week.

Acting on a request by Del Nadeau, president of the merchants' group, the council voted to keep the present procedure of putting all fine money turned back to the city in the general fund.

Nadeau contended that deposit of the funds in the general fund was depriving the parking meter account of funds it should rightfully have. He said the girls who write the tickets are paid from meter funds, and if the general fund is going to get the penalties it should be used to pay the girls.

Sam Levy, downtown businessman and property owner, told the City Council that the parking meter fund had grown to more than $18,000 before the city hired three meter-steps.

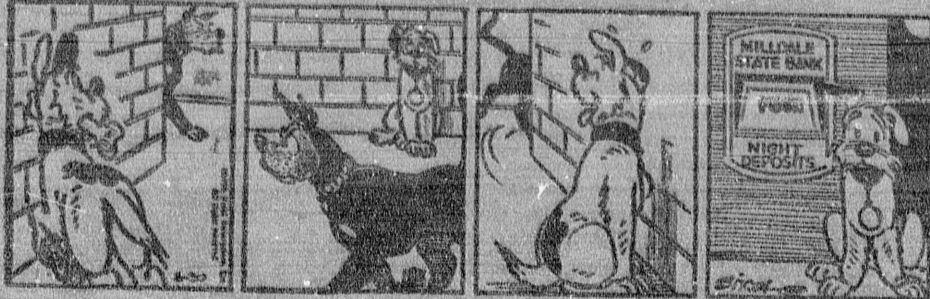

"Now the fund is depleted. There's not a dime left in it," Levy said.

Asst. Police Chief M. H. Porter answered Levy's remarks by saying the fund was $50,000 in debt because it was paying off two off-street parking lots which were purchased for the merchants in downtown Torrance.

Willys Blount countered Nadeau's contention that all the funds received from parking meters should go to purchasing additional meters. He pointed out that the law states that payments for the meters, maintenance, and cost of enforcement must come out of the funds first.
