Torrance Dept. of Employment To Extend Pay Claim Program

Torrance Office of the Department of Employment began processing claims for extended unemployment insurance benefits under the Federal Temporary Unemployment Compensation Act on Monday, Mrs. Winona Ellis, manager, said today.

The announcement that she had received the necessary procedures had trained her staff in them followed the decision of Governor Goodwin J. Knight that California would join other states in participating in the new federal-state program. In making the announcement, Governor Knight said that the California Attorney General had ruled that H. W. Stewart, Director of the Department of Employment, had the authority to enter into the necessary agreement with the federal government.

Any person who has exhausted his regular California unemployment insurance claim or benefits under federal laws which provide unemployment compensation for veterans or federal employees, since July 1, 1957, and is unemployed on July 7, 1958 may file a claim for extended benefits. Under California's agreement with the federal government, no benefits can be paid for any week of unemployment which occurred prior to the July 7, 1958, date.

The effective date of coverage in other participating states varies in accordance with their agreements with the federal government.

In each individual case, the date on which the claim is effective will establish the first week for which benefits can be paid, whether it be in California or another participating state. The temporary program will continue through the week which will end April 4, 1959.
