Riviera Hospital Observes First Birthday With Party

Some 300 children, along with their parents, friends, brothers and sisters helped to celebrate Riviera Hospital's first anniversary with a gala party in the hospital's courtyard last week.

The happy and well-behaved celebrants were held spellbound with the antics and magic tricks of Pepe, the clown, who performed for over two hours. An abundant supply of cookies, cake and punch was heartily consumed by the little guests as they passed through the refreshment line with wide-eyed glee.

Jack Saylin, hospital administrator, introduced Dr. Mathew Romeo, assistant chief of staff, and Dr. Rheinholdt Ullrich, chairman of the obstetrical committee, who formally greeted the guests.

Mayor Albert Lenz opened his remarks by stating that "this is certainly a 'Politician's Paradise' referring to the vast number of young babies present. Mayor Lenz pointed out that the Riviera

Hospital has in its first year of operation brought over 1081 babies into the world.

DURING THE past year, the new and growing hospital served 5182 patients, including 2763 surgical cases, 1061 new mothers, and 350 emergency room cases. A newly-added pathological laboratory already has analyzed some 44,375 specimens.

A complete radiological unit, new pediatric rooms, an emergency and treatment room, cardioscope, and Bennett positive pressure apparatus were added since the opening. The hospital thus is fully equipped to handle all types of surgery, including the most delicate.

Further expansion of the hospital is planned as the number of those requiring care increases, Saylin reported.

"WE SEEK to give the best nursing care and maintain the highest possible standards," he declared.
