

Summer Crafts Program Closes; Winter Classes Due Sept. 30

The summer arts and crafts program of the City Recreation Department closed last week with a display at the Center at 1511 Craven St.

The crafts program, which met twice weekly, stressed copper enameling, mosaics and silk screen work, much of which was displayed at the closing session for the season.

The mosaics, ranging in color from green and blue through pastels and to the tans, consisted of many materials. David Horlander, using a tin can up as a base, made a simple mosaic design of ceramic tile. David is a five-year-old.

Mrs. Dorothy M. Boyle displayed a more ambitious project, a brown and tan ceramic tile mosaic coffee table top. Clyde Goodman worked pieces of plastic into his ceramic tile mosaic. Others used tile with stained glass.

DESIGNS VARIED from geometric figures to fish, leaves and one seahorse.

Wednesday night, a small portion of the 2400 who have taken part this summer, dropped in at the "Drop In Night" session held once a week. A man and his wife etched copper. A man, his wife and two daughters enamelled copper with the four-year-old, dabbing with a brush filled with the thick blue enamel on a copper earring, singing in a monotone.

THIS USED TO be the city hall and these rooms were the engineering department, the graduate of Cornell of Iowa with a major in sociology said. "We have been using a big coffee urn to hold the water for the etching. However, I guess they've taken it to the Auditorium. It belongs to the Auditorium."

WHERE'S THE WATER? a man asked Miss Edith Simpelar supervisor.

"I guess you'll have to go to the janitor's room for some," the supervisor said. She then explained.

The municipal court is scheduled to move out of the building and the Recreation department does not know what the future holds for it. The part of the building occupied by arts and crafts has a solid concrete floor and installation of a water system would be expensive.

The recreation staff painted the rooms and made the curtains early in the summer, Miss Simpelar said.

THE SCHEDULE at the Center this summer has included a "Drop In Night" every Wednesday night and other classes on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The work at the Center is more concentrated than the crafts program at the 22 playgrounds under the recreation department.

The winter program, which will include work in copper, linoleum block, silk screening, and leather work, will begin Sept. 30. The supervisor said that mosaic classes will be on Tuesday nights and the craft night will be Thursday. Hours will be 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

"Hey, mama, look at these puppets," a child called out as she inspected a wide variety of paper mache puppets, some with Pinocchio noses and other Disney influences.

Army Pvt. Arthur D. Alderete, son of Mr. and Mrs. Juan M. Alderete, 2362 W. 238th, recently completed eight weeks of basic combat training at Fort Riley, Kan.

Alderete, 22, attended Torrance High School.
