

A family dinner party at the Plush Horse Restaurant was recently given by Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Graef to mark their return from a seven-week tour of Europe.

The South Bayans with their daughter, Nancy Graef, visited Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Switzerland, France, Holland, England and Scotland.

Social World

EDNA CLOYD, Editor

AUGUST 24, 1958

TORRANCE HERALD

Seven

CORRECT POSTURE Mrs. Henry (Lu) Burrows, 2938 Opal St., a John Powers fashion consultant and teacher in Beverly Hills, gives student, Gloria Rose, tips on correct posture and how much it means in wearing the new fall fashions, which this year will be "The Little Shaft". The "Shaft" is a new treatment of the sheath. Mrs. Burrows and her family have resided here for six years.

Alpha Gamma Benefit Set For Sept. 27

Alpha Gamma Delta will stage its "Punch-Brunch" at La Venta Inn in Palos Verdes on Sept. 27. Mrs. James Post of Torrance heads the committee for the event. Proceeds will be given to Cerebral Palsy and Crippled Children Assn.

"The Fall Silhouette" has been chosen as the theme of the fashion show. Fall's newest fashions will be provided by the Showroom in Playa del Rey. Nadine Nordman will be the commentator assisted by Clara Cahill, owner.

Mrs. George Ausmus of Torrance is the designer of the decorations which consist of mounted golden image cutouts of various fall silhouettes.

The South Bay Club and their guests will meet at 10 a.m. for punch prior to brunch.

Working with Mrs. Post are Mmes. Ed Greenblatt, Otto Willett, William Smith, Duane Enochs, Sydney Patterson, John Hauerwas, T. M. R. H. Lutz and Robert Caldwell.

Pool Party

Mrs. Jack Brooks, 3246 Eldorado, entertained a group of friends at a luncheon and pool party at her home last Tuesday.

Luncheon was served at tables around the pool and the guests spent the afternoon swimming.

Mrs. Brooks' guests were Mmes. W. E. Grubbs, Parke Montague, Gerald Eastham, Walter Levy, Burton Eastley, Robert Triplett, Phyllis Klink, C. M. Blakely, and Phillip Halloran.

See 'Music' Man

Among those attending the production "Music Man" at the Philharmonic in Los Angeles Wednesday night were Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Houske, Dr. and Mrs. R. Bingham, Messrs. and Mmes. Paul Loranger and Sid Hopkins.

LAW, ORDER AND LOVE The J. W. Noone family, one of the largest in the area numbering 11 children, pose for the cameraman. They are from left, front row: Barb, 6; Robert 3; Mrs. Noone holding four-week-old Patrick; Mr. Noone holding Thomas, 15 months; Charlene 5; Paul 7; and Janet 16 in the back row, from left: Mary 10; Jack 18; Barbara 12; and Joyce 16. Respectively Noones the psychology used by the Noones in rearing their family.

Linda Lee Miller Becomes Old-Fashioned Discipline In Area's Largest Family Amazes Herald Photog

By BOB WILTON

My photo assignment was routine. The message on the slip was brief, "Noone family, 2763 Conrado, Wednesday 4 p.m." Two little girls played together on the front lawn of a typical residential home as I arrived. With camera in hand I walked up to the door which was held open by Barbara Noone, age 12, Kathy 6, and Charlene 5, followed me in to the living room where I introduced myself to Mr. and Mrs. John W. Noone.

As I turned to set my camera down I saw Thomas, 15 months, Robert, 3 years old and Paul, 7, sitting on the davenport. Mary, 10, stood to one side. This assignment was getting bigger by the minute.

Mrs. Noone and her husband talked about the weather and then he said, "Just tell us what you want us to do."

As I was rearranging the furniture for better background, Barbara, 12, walked into the room through one door while Jack, 18, came in by another saying, "Someone took the laces out of my shoes. Now I'll have to hide my feet."

Surely, this would be all, so I asked mother and dad to sit in the middle with some of the children on each side. The senior Noone set down and spoke to the children. "Now do what the photographer tells you."

The children looked at me and as I directed them to their positions and they quickly sat down, I backed up to check my view under for coverage on the group. A voice from behind me said, "Pardon me, I'm Joyce." I turned to see a strikingly pretty nineteen year old girl walk over to the others.

Mrs. Noone still stood to one side and when I asked her to please sit next to her husband she excused herself and left the room. Seconds later she returned carrying Patrick, 4 weeks, in her arms. I just backed up a bit rather as she sat down with the group. I took my pictures and got identifications. All this took place in less than 15 minutes.

Surely this was an unusual family, but there was something else out of the ordinary. Then I realized what it was. I had just made a picture of thirteen people ranging in age from four weeks to adults, and there was no confusion, no bumping up and moving around, no loud talk or threats, no balking—in fact this calm cooperation was as though taking family pictures was an every day procedure—and that is unusual, I know. So, I asked Mrs. Noone for the secret.

"I have no secret," she replied. "I just believe in old-fashioned bringing up. Our children are not on their own and they respect their parents and others."

Mr. and Mrs. Noone are 43 and 43, respectively, and are originally from Massachusetts. He is a shoe salesman and she, naturally, a housewife. They lived in a four-bedroom home with 10 beds. Some of the beds may be rolled out of the way leaving room for play.

Their food bill runs $85 per week and Mrs. Noone commented, "The more food we buy the more the children eat."

Besides the senior Noone three others in the family work. Joyce is a market checker, Jack is employed in a machine shop and Janet is a baby sitter.

This is probably one of the largest families in the area and definitely one of the neatest.

Mrs. Noone forgot to call the HERALD when Patrick was born July 23 and so perhaps this story may also serve as a birth announcement for number eleven.

Mrs. Noone forgot to call the HERALD when Patrick was born July 23 and so perhaps this story may also serve as a birth announcement for number eleven.

MRS. C. D. HOPPER ... Wedding Announced (Kramer Photo)

Linda Lee Miller Becomes Bride of Carroll Hopper

Garden Wedding Chapel in Long Beach was the setting on July 19 for the marriage of Miss Linda Lee Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie L. Miller, 22802 Doble Ave., Torrance, and Carroll Dean Hopper of Phoenix, Ariz. The bride came to the altar on the arm of her father. She wore a white lace ballerina length dress. It was designed with a princess bodice and full skirt. Her only jewelry was a single cultured pearl on a gold chain. A lace tiara held the shoulder-length veil and the bridal bouquet was of white rosebuds tied with white satin streamers.

Miss Carol Simmons was the bride's only attendant. She wore a pale green nylon ballerina length dress and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Chuck Hopper stood as best man and guests were seated by Mike Miller, brother of the bride.

The pastor of the First Christian Church of Long Beach conducted the marriage ceremony.

The 50 relatives and close friends attending the wedding were entertained at a reception in the church patio. They were registered by Miss Joanne Cronin.

The bride was graduated from Narbonne high school in June 1958.

Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Jones of West Frankfort, Ill., received his education in Illinois schools. Mr. Hopper is affiliated with an insulation firm whose head office is in Phoenix where he and his wife are making their home.

Schlenker-Esslinger Rites Solemnized in San Gabriel

Following their honeymoon in Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne E. Esslinger are now at home at 6209 Avon Ave., San Gabriel. Mrs. Esslinger is the former Elizabeth Jane Schlenker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard E. Schlenker, 28107 Oak St., Lomita. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Gale B. Schlenker of San Gabriel.

The couple were married at the San Gabriel Union Church in an 8 o'clock ceremony on Aug. 6.

Miss Evelyn Schlenker was the maid of honor. She wore deep pink organdy over tulle and carried pink rosebuds on a net heart.

Bridesmaids were Miss Sheron Hains of Rosemead and Miss Linda Jones of Lomita. They wore in pale pink organdy and their bouquets were of pink rosebuds.

Carole Byland was soloist. Her maid of honor was Mrs. Hains and Lynn Landau. The church auditorium was the scene of the wedding.

The bride was graduated from Narbonne high school and Anika college. Her husband attended Santa Clara school after his graduation from Alhambra high school. He is now employed in San Gabriel.

MRS. D. E. ESSLINGER ... Former Beth Schlenker

Powers Consultant Advises How to Wear 'Little Shaft'

Girls, if you want to wear those elegant new fashions for fall which are just now being released from the fashion fronts of the world, take these tips from attractive Mrs. Henry (Lu) Burrows, 2938 Opal St.

These authentic tips come from this local woman who spends from 12 noon to 3:30 p.m. each day at the John Powers modeling school in Beverly Hills where she teaches and is a fashion consultant.

She says first, keep that weight down by watching your diet. High proteins are your best bet for reducing. NEVER miss breakfast. It's important for getting a good start each day. There are also daily exercises which are a "must" for keeping fit. These exercises build up the blood circulation and the spot reducing routines remove those bulges which "just won't come off." Another essential for that vibrant look is 8 to 9 hours of sleep each night.

These are the first and essential advice given by Mrs. Burrows whose measurements are 5 feet 7 1/2 inches, 118 pounds, and 34-24-34 in body measurements.

At Mr. Powers predicted this spring the chemise was short-lived. From the New York and Paris offices this week came news that fall's top fashions are the full empire line. The sack and the chemise are passe.

The new line is known as "The Little Shaft" or a modified version of the empire line. The little shaft remains the same in good taste at mid-length or just above. The new cocktail gowns have reverted to the rage of the 20's, short in front and long in back.

According to Mrs. Burrows, fashion authority, the effect of the chemise is still with us. There will be lots of back interest, especially the bloused back effects. Colors are vibrant, with electric blue heading the list. Fabrics are much more elaborate.

Hats this fall will be the high head hugging cloche. Velvet returns to top the list of new hats as well as an array of brocades.

In her classes, which consist of 200 girls of all ages, Mrs. Burrows teaches poise, charm good taste in clothes and make-up, proper styling and the art of modeling.

To quote John Powers, world famous modeling instructor, Mrs. Burrows points out "know fashion then choose only those things that were designed for you."

Along with her teaching duties, Mrs. Burrows has conducted fashion shows at the Sealer and Beverly Hills Hotels and has lectured to many women's clubs and other organizations.

She is at present conducting a class on "Personality Development" for 75 students at the Redondo high school as part of the Adult Education program.

The Burrows have resided in Torrance for six years. Mr. Burrows is a teacher at the Fleming Junior high school. They have two daughters, Candy 12 and Susan 8. Mrs. Burrows is past president of the Madrona P.T.A. She has served as chairman of the Heart Fund Drive in Torrance and been active in other civic affairs.

The fashion consultant was graduated from the John Powers modeling school in New York City eleven years ago, and is also a graduate of the Dorothy Hughes school in Hollywood. This is a "model" mother who has modeled her life into a successful pattern as housewife, mother and career woman.

YOUR PROBLEMS by Ann Landers

"This Is For The Police"

Dear Ann: I'm practically in a state of shock as I write this letter. I hope you won't think I'm a nut. Please help me. I don't know where else to turn.

Three years ago my husband disappeared. He was a heavy drinker and had gone on tons before so I wasn't terribly worried. After three weeks I became concerned and notified the police.

The next night they reported they'd found a man in the river apparently a suicide and the wallet on the river bank had my husband's identification. He'd been in the water several days so they didn't ask me to look at him. I gave him a nice funeral and grieved for months wondering where I'd failed.

Last night, some three years later, I attended an open-air concert in another city and I noticed I saw my husband there with a woman and a man. When he saw me they all left hurriedly. I know this man very well and I know him here. I'll forgive him for everything if only he'll come home. What shall I do? I don't want to cause him any trouble. R.H.W.

This is a matter for the police whether you want to. (Continued on Page 3)