Ann Landers

must to come up with pertified advice like that. I'll bet you're still writing with a stylus.

Flat Pockets.
Dear Flat Pockets (with matching head): When I was a girl, (back in the Stone Age of course) fellows' pockets were a lot flatter than they are now. Three dollars a week fed a family of eight—if the family had $2. Any high school kid who had four-bits was considered a plutocrat.

It doesn't take long to have fun on a date. Coffee or coke dates can be more exciting than pheasant under glass, if the company is right. Any girl who insists on groceries deserves to be left at home.

Dear Ann: What can be done about people who tie up a party-line for three hours at a time? We know who the people are and have asked them politely to be more cooperative, but it doesn't do any good.

I have been on the phone talking to the minister of the church when these people have cut in with rude remarks like "Quit gasin' and give someone else a chance." It's very embarrassing.

We've been told the telephone company insists that people go to court and prove charges if they want their party-line changed. Is this correct?—L.D.S.

This is not correct. I suggest you contact the party-line complaint department of the phone company. They'll speak to your circuit connection and request cooperation. In most cases they get it. It will advise you as to the next step to take if the situation doesn't improve.

Does almost everyone have a good idea how you'll do, read for ANN LANDERS' new booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked" enclosing with your request to write in color and a return-address envelope.
Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send $2.00 to her in care of your newspaper and she'll send you a stamped and addressed envelope. 1958. First National Bank, Inc.
