

ECC Thespians Present Agatha Christie Play

With a slight shift in the timing Agatha Christie's mystery play, known in England as "The Nursery Rhyme Murders" and in America as "And Then There Were None" and "Ten Little Indians," will be produced by the El Camino College Thespian Club tomorrow and Saturday nights in the Green Room of the Campus Theater.

The slight shift in the conclusion of the play entails the elimination of every member of the cast except Fred Narracott, a bit part. Howard Barnes of the New York Herald Tribune called the play a "homicidal field day," as the principals are dispatched with a number of varied weapons and devices.

DIRECTED BY Robert Chapman.

Alan Bourhenne, James Packard and Margery Ruth, scenic designer, Ferguson will be seen as Narracott.

Lighting technician Charles Turner has the job of creating a mysterious mood for the weird country house setting located on an island off the coast of Devon.

DANIEL LIVINGTON, costumer for the show, has sent out a request for old clothes, particularly suits and dresses of the 1920-30 period the time in which the play takes place. Anyone wishing to contribute apparel is requested to contact Livingston or members of the Thespian Club any afternoon after 1 p.m. in the Campus Theater, or phone DA 4-6631.

Tickets may be purchased from Thespians within the next two weeks or at the door performance nights.

MICE MULTIPLY
Common mice bear as many as 17 litters a year.
