

Potent Scores Are Racked Up By Keglers in Bowl-O-Drome Matches

The All Kattz racking up 16 wins to eight in the lost column, head National Supply's 18 teams of bowling addicts hitting Bowl-O-Drome lanes every Thursday eve. Bunched in second spot, two out of first, are the I.E.'s Forge Shop, and the Killers, by the Sparks. Forge shop kegler, Jess Crawford latched onto the early season series high, stringing together three biggies for a whopping 550 & 27-677 while Lee Powers, Sales hurler, and L. Baker of the Mett Shop mob, share the men's individual high game honors. Powers scattering 10 pins for a potent 238 & 0-258 and Baker totaling the game-lasted out with a rousing 219 & 39.

INEX CLAYTON, popular little south-paw with the Pin Spillers squad, hit the height of her bowling career when she uncorked a spectacular set of 539 with a 201 single in league action a couple of weeks back. A 439 & 123-632 set her up as the one to beat for female season series honors as does her 201 & 41-242 role.

In the sprightly league if you earn two trouble-games you're entitled to receive both—which just might happen to her.

Plaza Liquors, a real young cover in the hallway night, led Fours, having only one lost marked up against them after five weeks of play, hold a 21-game lead over the summer league champs on the Highsquad. League leaders whalloped team No. 5 for the full count during their last outing, whipping up the season's high team game of 776 and series high of 2236, sparked by gal member P. Shore's powerful single pitch, 575 (three game total), A 575 & 63-641 tops female series efforts while J. Higgins heads the men's with his 372 & 80-662. D. Romming and W. Strayves of the 10 fours share the spot-light for men's individual singles, both scoring with whopping 231 games. Romming, 210 & 21 and Strayves, 205 & 26. Anchor Liquor's D. Baker credited with gal's high individual pitch with her 201 & 38-239 dozer.
