Bert Lynn Gets Planning Post

Bert M. Lynn, president of the Torrance Planning Commission, was elected first vice president of the Southern California Planning Congress, according to an announcement by president-elect Leslie S. Storm of Santa Monica.

Lynn has been a director of the group, which includes planning commissioners from San Luis Obispo to San Diego, for the past three years. He has been a member of the Torrance Planning Commission for 6 years, three years of which he has served as president.

Born in Mt. Vernon, N. Y., Lynn graduated from Alfred University as a ceramic engineer, class of 1934. He is a veteran of four years with the United States Navy and saw most of his service in the Pacific Theatre. He formerly owned the Lynn Brick Company of Harbor City and lives with his wife Lilyan, "Chickie," and sons Bryan, 9, and Barton, 5, at 1208 Greenwood.

REHEARSALS FOR YULE PROGRAM . . . Organist Elsie Balfour of 19700 Lucille Ave. is pictured with her accompanist, Miss Mary Lynne Sherrock of Long Beach, in rehearsal for Saint Suen's "Christmas Oratorio" to be presented at the Little Theatre, Long Beach State College, tomorrow at 10 a.m. and noon. Featured in the oratorio will be the 193-voice college chorus, a string orchestra, and five vocal soloists.

Madonna Row On Display At El Camino

Madonna Row, a collection of 11 eight-by-ten reproductions of masterpieces featuring the Madonna and Child, is currently on display at El Camino College. Lighted nightly at dusk, the works of art are lined before the buildings which face Crenshaw Blvd.

Viewers are asked to utilize the campus periphery road so that they might pause while seeing the display without interrupting the flow of traffic between Redondo and Manhattan Beach Blvd.

Latest addition to the collection, which has been prepared by the pupils of Miss Mildred K. Waler, is a reproduction of the 12th century Byzantine mosaic scene, "Nativity." The original is kept in a small church in Daphne, an obscure little town in Greece.

Appearing with the "Nativity" are four other masterpieces, each a stained glass window window of . . .

PARADE BEAUTIES . . . Just Tye (top), Miss Chamber of Commerce, will ride on the Torrance entry float in the Rose Parade in Pasadena New Year's Day. Glenda Schwartz, Miss Welteria; and Donna Isbell, Miss Air Port Day, will also ride along with the winner and runner-up of the Miss Torrance contest now in progress.

Butchers Give $50 for Float

A check for $50, representing the members and officers of Butchers Union Local 551 who live and work in the Torrance area, was turned over to Torrance's Tournament of Roses float committee yesterday.

"The check is in appreciation for the outstanding 'No' vote by the citizens of Torrance in the recent election against Proposition 13," an official of the local said.

The members of Local 551 prepare the meat in markets throughout the Torrance area, the entire Harbor district, and all of Orange County. They are active in their communities in many civic affairs.

"We are proud to be a part of the growth of Torrance and extend best wishes for a first place trophy in the world's most beautiful parade," a union official said.

Jimmy Walker Selected as Cheerleader

A graduate of Torrance High School has been elected social committee chairman and cheerleader for the student body at California Western University in San Diego.

Jimmy Gene Walker, 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Walker, 2232 W. 231st St., who graduated from high school in 1953, was senior representative to the student body court and secretary of Boys' League while in high school.

Walker has been active in Methodist youth circles, having been past president of Methodist Youth Fellowship and Wesley clubs at First Methodist Church in Torrance. Past secretary of the Wesley Fellowship for the California-Arizona Conference of the Methodist Church, he represented this conference twice in national conventions.

A junior on the Cal Western campus on Point Loma, Walker is secretary-treasurer and honor court justice of the Associated Men Resident Students. He is a scholarship student and plans to enter the ministry.
