Tips Given Housewife On Ways to Curb the Cost of Living Problem

Is the cost of living getting almost always results in econo-you down? mies, but most women feel Any of the markets adver that only staples can be bought

May of the markets advertising in this newspaper know what you're up against and can often help you make your food budget cover all points. There are loads of marketing knacks that can be helpful in your quest for economy.

Skillful ways of shopping ... sure-fire tests for quality ... new bargains in nutrition—all are useful to you in your look-out for good food buys.
One way of making sure you're putting your food dollar to learn the trick of judging fresh fruits and vegetables. It's NEVER a bargain to buy anything of doubful quality ... so don't judge by price alone or by size alone. Learn, instead, how to judge each vegetable or fruit on its own merit.

TAKE THE humble onion, for instance. Look for a clean, hard bulk, a thin neck, and a skin that's dry enough to crackle. That's the onion that's in first class shape — it'll be worth what you pay for it.

On take melons — so important to summer menu planning and so disappointing if you get a bad one. You can tell when a Casaba or a Cranshaw melon is ripe when the rind is somewhat yellowed and the blossom end is a little soft.

Among canned foods these days, the real boon to the budgeting housewife are the many new processed fruit juices, such as Big One. With fresh orange juice out of the question, in terms of cost, for many families, it will be well worth your while to look on the shelves of the markets which advertise in this newspaper for one of the new processed citrus juice products which modern research is developing. veloping.

Vets Advised Of Outpatient Medical Care

Veterans of either wartime or peacetime service were reminded today by Veterans Service Officer Bessie D. Slonecker, whose office is located at 1622 Gramercy Ave., of the eligibility rules for "outpatient" care through the Federal Veterans Administration.

If he has wartime service, the veteran must have been discharged or retired under conditions "other than dishonorable," and be in need of treatment for a disability incurred or aggravated in wartime service.

AN EXCEPTION to this rule applies for Spanish-American War veterans, including the Philippines Insurrection and the Boxer Rebellion, whose disabilities are considered service-connected for the purposes of outpatient care; not, however, for local hospitalization.

not, however, for local hospitalization.

In the case of peacetime service only, the veteran to be eligible for outpatient treatment must have been discharged for disability, or be receiving compensation, or be eligible to receive compensation except for the receipt of retirement pay. And he must require treatment for a disability incurred or aggravated in ity incurred or aggravated in DISABLED veterans who are receiving training under either the World War II or the Korean Conflict vocational re-habilitation programs, and who need outpatient medical care for nonservice-connected disabilities to prevent interrup-tion of their training, may be so entitled.

Assistance in applying for outpatient treatment by mak-ing out the proper forms is of-fered by the Veterans Service Office.
