

Y-DAY EMCEE . . . Clancy Nolan, 8, hears all about Y Day in Hollywood from emcee Art Linkletter. More than 10,000 youngsters and their families will see such stars as Roy Rogers and Dale Evans perform in Hollywood Bowl, and then attend the UCLA-Washington football game in the Coliseum. Tickets are available at the YMCA.

YMCA Delegation to Open Model Legislature Plans

A delegation of six Torrance YMCA teenagers will journey to Long Beach State College Saturday, for the first training session of the 12th Annual Model Legislature to be held next February in Sacramento.

Meeting with some 500 other students from Southern California, they will elect the youth governor and other officers who will preside at the three-day citizenship training event.

Chairman for the day will be Long Beach Superior Judge Beach Vasey. Electioneering will take up most of the time Saturday, with candidates making speeches and submitting to personal interviews by the young politicians. In addition to the youth governor, they will elect the assembly speaker, senate president pro-tem, senate secretary, senate chaplain and assembly sergeant-at-arms.

Balance of the officers will be elected at a similar meeting in Northern California later in the month. The training session marks the beginning of several months of hard work for the high schoolers, who will be preparing to take over their state government as senators, assemblymen, legislative advocates, newspapers, and delegates in training.

Between now and February they must write legislative bills for submission to the mock legislature, study parliamentary procedure and, in general, learn how state government functions.

RESTRICTIVE ACTS
A use system under which the sale of poison-made goods is limited to state departments and agencies has been adopted and put into practice in 36 of the states.

FAMOUS TOWER
The Eiffel tower in Paris was the first large structure to be built entirely of steel and iron. About 15,000 steel beams and 2½ million rivets were used in the construction process.
