

It's Christmas All Over Town

WESTERN SNOWMAN . . . The bumper crop of tumbleweeds in Torrance supplied many residents with material for front yards. Peter, Chris and Bill Huey, sons of Mrs. and Mrs. Donald Huey, 5419 Reese Rd., built this outstanding snowman from the roving weeds that blew in with the recent high winds.

ARTISTIC NATIVITY SCENE . . . The outstanding cutout figures and area's finest. These figures decorate the front lawn of L. R. Quinn, 4016 detailed back ground setting made this nativity scene one of Torrance Del Amo, and are a tradition brightening the neighborhood at Christmas time each year.

All Photos By

Herald Photographer

Bob Wilton

FINE ARRANGEMENT . . . Another cutout nativity scene that attracted much interest in South Torrance was located at the home of W. F. Burke, 22905 Carlow Rd. The interesting lighting and shadow background set the scene off from its hillside position.

MANGER SCENE . . . With the Christ Child and the Virgin Mary kneeling beside Him gave Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Harmon, 22317 Warmside, first place in the religious classification of the Jaycee selection for outstanding exterior Christmas decorations.

SPACE AGE CHRISTMAS . . . Charles Smith, 5107 Lee St., makes last minute repairs on his mechanical front yard Christmas decorations. A rocket ship, loaded with packages, stands at the left and moon men travel around picking up the gifts from the ship and deposit them in Santa's sled next to the North Pole at the rear. The animated "Rube Goldberg" has attracted hundreds of visitors.

YULE SERENADE . . . Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Clark and Rodney Jr. listen to Christmas carols sung by 20 members of Seaside school Girl Scout Troop 1119. Girls sang yuletide songs in the streets of South Torrance Sunday night and one of the homes visited was the Clark's at 4563 Mindora Dr.

OUT STROLLING . . . Little Cynthia Bryant, three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bryant, 2801 Onrado St., is all dressed up in her snow suit. She found no snow in Torrance, but cold wind made her outfit appropriate.

A WINNER . . . The front yard scene depicting Santa Claus soaking his feet in a tub while he takes five by a fireplace is the clever work of William Lindner, 233 Via Los Miradores. The arrangement caught the eyes of judges and won its originator the first place plaque in the novelty class of the Jaycee sponsored contest.