Grades May Get Jack Runyon By BILL SCHIPPER-Sports Editor

A LITTLE BIT ABOUT EVERYTHING: You can say what A LITTLE BIT ABOUT EVERYTHING: You can say what you like about the apparent "flop" of Torrance High's bas-ketball team, but I still don't count the Tarters out of the Pioneer League's scramble for the CIF playoffs, despite their 1-3 record. With eight games to go, and four contending teams for the one and two positions, anything can happen. I think I will always remember a similar "flop" of a couple of years ago, when much publicized Redondo High Propped two of its first three Bay League games, then came back to win 'em all and squeeze in for the championship. Redondo had to win eight the same number of games

Redondo had to win eight, the same number of games Torrance has remaining in the league schedule, and it's no impossibility, although it'll take a heap of doing.

Runyan Ineligible?

Tomorrow afternoon's Torrance-South High wrestling match should be a corker. Besides a mythical "city cham-pionship" being involved, both sides will be fielding excel-lent mat material . . . El Camino basketball coach George Stanich thinks he might lose ace guard and number two team scorer, Jack Runyon, to the grades' chopping block. Jack is reportedly having some difficulty in an English class, and has to come through with flying colors on his final exam next week if he is to remain with the Warriors for the sec-ond round of the Metro season. El Camino has already lost three due to ineligibility . . . three due to ineligibility . . .

I hear that one of the reasons Torrance's Bob Weis-ter is a straight-A student is that he has a near-photo-graphic memory . . . Long Beach City College, unbeaten in five Metropolitan Conference games, has five players averaging more than 11 points a game for the season, and four are averaging double figures for conference games...

Forward Huey Thomas of East L.A. was six points shy of the Metro scoring record last week when he hit for 41 against Santa Monica. He has a 30.5 conference average . . . South High's varsity basketball boss Jim Hanny is anxiously "looking forward to winning back a piece of that city cham-pionship." The Spartans play Torrance Feb. 16 in the South

However, "the Women's Athletic Assn. tries to discourage added events to boys' meets, so we'll try to at least set up some kind of a 440 exhibition race," he said . . .

Austin Big Scorer

There's been much said about Weister's scoring spree at Torrance, and South's brilliant Joe Austin has been somewhat left in the shadows. So let's take a look at Austin's three year record at South: After Shooting Lock Off Gate

That gives Joe, a junior, 744 points for 49 games, an ave-rage of 15.2 points a game since his freshman year. Big Joe should have around 1200 points scored by the time he graduates.

Incidentally, the season scoring record out at North High is 338, for 26 games, set by Tony Mance . . . After the en-thusiastic greeting of the first scheduled intracity varsity bas-ketball game in Torrance's history last week, why not con-tinue the Torrance-South series next year, even though South is tickled for the Just Varsity tinue the Torrance-South series next year, even though South is ticketed for the Bay League? Perhaps in the not too far off future some kind of week-end "tournament" could be held in the city with North, South, Torrance, and possibly West High or Bishop Montgomery en-gaging in a two-day affair . . If Sam Edwards could go a whole season without illness or injury, he could probably become one of North's greatest roundball players. It seems as Edwards goes, so go the Sax-ons . .

Sam, a junior, joined Coach Bill Wood's team after transferring from Palmdale to Mira Costa, then to North this year. He was a regular on Palmdale's all-CIF (small school's) playoff entry a year ago as a sophomore. He sat out two games last week with a leg muscle bruise... Cliff Weimer, of Torrance football fame who's been cavorting on the THS junior-varsity basketball team, set a JV rebounding record last week when he grabbed 35 against South... Weimer was then promptly elevated to the varsity Tuesday. He scored seven points, but didn't come up with a single rebound. Speaking of Torrance and basketball, Coach Will Boerger and three of his players took in the El Camino-Harbor tussle Tuesday evening. They seemed quite impressed with the Warriors' running ability. Ex-Tartar Gerald Sherburne was a starter for Harbor JC, and he did a fine job at guard, scoring eight points ...
