Weister smashed the school's scoring record for a junior, bettering Rich Ruffell's 1956 season by 25 points, although it required two additional games to do it.

Ruffell, who was all-CIF for two seasons, scored 434 points in 24 games. Weister pumped in 461 in 26 encounters. South High' Joe Austin compiled a 358 point season, and Rick Jacobs, second team all-Bay League at North High, rammed through 323 points.

Let's compare the junior year scoring records of Ruffell, Weister, Austin, and Jacobs.

Bobby Guerra, who's playing basketball in the city's adult recreation program, and a former teammate of Bob Moon, Torrance's first all-CIF basketballer (1954), nevertheless rates Moon over both Ruffell and Weister. In fact, he puts it rather emphatically: "Moon was better than Ruffell and Weister put together. He had every shot in the books, and never stopped amazing me. Man, he was great".

El Camino College center Harry Dinnel, who was over-looked on the all-CIF selections a year ago as a prepster at Mira Costa, is a top contender for this season's all-Metropolitan Conference team

Harry was fourth in Metro scoring, and was easily the conference's top rebounder, averaging about 18-20 a game. You can bet that ECC cage boss George Stanich still gets lumps in his throat thinking of his team's possibilities with Dinnel, and last year's all-conference and all-State forward Harbor City-Lomita
