

Dedication for New Fellowship Hall Scheduled

The First Christian Church of Torrance will dedicate its new Fellowship Hall on Sunday evening, Nov. 6. There will be a fellowship dinner at 6 p.m. with members and friends of the church sharing in a cooperative meal.

Following the dinner a short dedication ceremony will be held. All who had major responsibilities in the erection of the building will participate, along with presidents or chairmen of groups within the church.

At the service, two worship centers for the two youth assembly rooms will also be dedicated in memory of Kerry Sexton. This popular young man was killed in a highway accident and his friends established a memorial fund which is being used to purchase the worship centers.

The new Fellowship Hall makes it possible for larger groups to gather in the church for dinners or recreational programs. All youth classes are also located in the building.

After the dedication service, Rev. Milton Sippel will show slides which he and Mrs. Sippel took while attending the World Convocation of Christian Churches in Edinburgh, Scotland, and touring the continent of Europe.

Toastmasters Pick Torrance Man for Contest

Hal Korell, 20532 Amie Ave., has been named Area 5 representative in the district Toastmasters International humorous speech contest to be held Nov. 19 at the Cockatoo Restaurant, Inglewood.

Korell was picked at competition at the Redondo Beach Elks Club Friday night, winning over five other contestants — Thomas Eadie, Hal Eads, Don Pecheeg, and Stan Howell. Korell is a member of Kentwood Club, while Pecheeg, the second place winner is from the Space Center Club.

Bill Hill, a member of the Space Center Club, was winner of "tall tales" competition and also will compete in the Nov. 19 competition.

The winning speech by Korell sought to compare world conditions to a TV western — with a battle between Sheriff Ike, Deputy Dick, Deputy Jack, and Big Nick from "Red K" corral.

Toastmasters is composed of men who meet weekly or semi-weekly to improve their public speaking abilities. Each man receives a chance to give both prepared speeches and impromptu talks, with other members offering evaluation and suggestions for improvement.

Area governor is Dr. Robert Seaman, Manhattan Beach. Douglas Johnson and Art Lester, both of Torrance, serve as district governor and educational lieutenant governor respectively.
