Sales in Rolling Hills Highlands Off to Fast Start During Opening

Sales at Rolling Hills Highlands in San Pedro exceed all expectations during the first week of the preview showing, according to Arnold Koblenz and Delancy, sales agents.

"Public acceptance of these new homes is clearly demonstrated by the sale of more than 50 homes over the week end, and nearly double that figure during a seven day period," said Koblenz.

Located at Westmont and Gaffey Sts., near the Harbor Freeway, Rolling Hills Highlands offers 20 exteriors, including two-story models, with five floor plans. These unique homes in the all gas Great Builder Series are available with three and four bedrooms and two baths.

PRICED FROM $20,000, excellent financing is available including, for the first time in nearly 10 years in the San Pedro area, a no down payment plan for veterans.

Features of the homes were built around Family Approved ideas, researched by a team of housing experts to determine what features were most wanted by the new home purchaser. They include color coordinated all gas kitchens with built-in Gaffers & Sattler Mark 20 range and oven, oak parquet floors, tiled baths, garbage disposers, fireplaces, sliding glass patio doors, oversize garages, gas forced air heating, natural wood cabinets, colored plumbing fixtures, and many others.

Designed by W. M. Bray, Rolling Hills Highlands is being built on the last large area of land suitable for housing development in the San Pedro area.

Camp Leader To Address SARC Group

Barnes, chairman for the group.

The subject of Mrs. Craig's talk will be the benefits of camping for retarded children. The talk will be illustrated with color slides taken at the camp. Members and other interested persons are invited to attend, it was pointed out.
