$2 Billion Bank
Seen in Merger
Of Two Groups

United California Bank, a statewide institution, which will result from the merger on Feb. 27 of California Bank with First Western Bank and Trust Co., will have total resources of more than $2 billion, according to Frank L. King, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the merged bank.

Under terms of the merger, 50 of First Western's 115 offices will join California Bank's 70 offices to create the 120-office, $2 billion bank, King said. The remaining 65 offices of First Western Bank will be transferred into a separate and new banking institution to be known as First Western Bank and Trust Co.

BASED ON the Dec. 31 statements of condition of the merged banks, United California Bank will have deposits of $1.8 billion, loans of more than $1 billion, and capital funds in excess of $160 million. Par value of its 4,967,047 shares is $12.50 per share and book value based on Dec. 31 figures is $32.61, the banker revealed.

The merged bank will be the fourth largest in California and the fourteenth largest in the nation. Its operating earnings during the first year are estimated at an annual rate of $2.40-$2.50 per share and dividends are expected to be paid quarterly at the annual rate of $1.60 per share, according to King.

THE MERGED bank will have 69 offices in Los Angeles and vicinity, 17 in San Francisco and vicinity, with the remaining 34 offices spread over the length of California.

In a letter to shareholders announcing a special meeting called for Feb. 16, at which time the merger proposals will be voted upon, King stated that United California Bank will maintain as an important banking office, and as its northern district headquarters, the present head office of First Western Bank in San Francisco. Francis S. Baer, now chairman of the board of First Western Bank, will become chairman of the board - San Francisco of United California Bank with his office at the northern district headquarters.

ACCORDING to King's letter, the San Francisco administrative committee, of which Baer also will be chairman, will, for all practical purposes, have complete autonomy in directing the activities of the northern district of the bank. The Los Angeles administrative committee also will operate autonomously and will direct the activities of the southern district of the bank. As chairman of the board - Los Angeles and chief executive officer, King will continue to be at the head office in Los Angeles. Clifford Tweter, president and second in command, also will keep his office at the Los Angeles head office.

The general terms of the proposed agreement merger are outlined in the letter as follows:

"FIRST WESTERN will be merged into California Bank and, as the surviving corporation, California Bank will change its name to United California Bank.

"United California Bank will sell and transfer to a new bank 65 statewide branch offices to be organized under California law. The new bank will keep the name of First Western Bank & Trust Co.

"Each outstanding share of California Bank will be converted into 1 1/4 shares of United California Bank.

"Each outstanding share of First Western Bank will be converted into one share of United California Bank."
