Boy Scout Troop 219

Boy Scout Troop 219 completed Boy Scout Week with a special demonstration camp on the corner of Arlington and Artesia. The public was invited to watch the setting-up operation or to visit the completed camp. Uniformed Scouts were ready to act as guides.

The boys cleaned and polished the grounds, then set up camping gear, sleeping and headquarter tents, caches, cooking centers, water supply, and compass route. For an extra display the boys built a three-man shelter from natural materials at hand. This particular shelter consisted of a fallen log, palm fronds, tumble weeds, and packed earth. The Scouts "broke" camp Sunday noon. Scoutmaster Clifford LaCoe, assisted by Senior Patrol Leader Jon Lindsay, supervised the weekend project.

MID-WINTER Court of Honor was held for Troop 219 on regular meeting night, Feb. 15, at Lincoln School. Advancement chairman Keith Lindsay was in charge of the award ceremony. James Cholly and Nick Lucatorta received public recognition as Tenderfoot Scouts and presented miniature Tenderfoot pins to their mothers. Craig Wennstrom was awarded a miniature First Class pin for his mother and his uniform badge. Two boys advanced to Star Scout, Jon Lindsay and Paul Marsh. They received Star pins for their mothers and Star patches for their uniforms.

Merit badges had been earned during the preceding period and were presented to Steve and Stanley Sorenson for music, John Lindsay for personal fitness, Paul Marsh for first aid, and Jesse Salcido and Ron Myers for cooking.

TWO-YEAR service pins went to Dennis Bongiorno and Scoutmaster LaCoe. One-year pins were received by Eddie Ernst, Jon Lindsay, Marc Salomone, and David Shilling.

Jon Lindsay earned the 50th Anniversary Award during 1960 and will receive the patch when the Council's supply is replenished.

After the awards the patrols put on skits related to space travel and its problems and on weapon safety; both subjects were emphasized during the month of February. WAR-WHOOP, the Troop yearly report, was distributed, and refreshments were served by the Social Committee of the Mothers' Auxiliary.

Sponsoring Institution for North Torrance Troop 219 is the Torrance Kiwanis Club, with Dr. Allen Hofferber as institutional representative. Troop activities are directed by Clifford LaCoe as Scoutmaster and Taylor Marsh as Assistant Scoutmaster.

Boy Scout Troop 732

Members of Boy Scout Troop 732 and their families gathered at the YMCA recently for a dinner celebrating fifty-one years of scouting. Scoutmaster Rufus Alley and his family of Troop 788, Redondo Beach, were guests for the evening.

Troop mothers prepared a ham dinner for the event. A large cake decorated with the wording, "I'll do my best to build, serve, achieve," was served with ice cream.

Scoutmaster Bob Scarborough read an account of the activities for the year and recalled many amusing incidents that occurred.

Court of Honor was held. Boys receiving merit badges were Joe Mullen, Butch Rozendal, Dane Walker, and Bobby Bauman. Eugene Anderson received a one year pin. Tenderfoot awards were presented to Nick Nicoll and John MeVey.

Three special awards were given for the year. Bill Sullivan was the proud recipient of two of these awards, Advancement and Scouting. The Condor Patrol received the award for the best patrol.

Members of the Troop presented Scoutmaster Scarborough with a pack rack and pack as a token of appreciation for his services the past year. The meeting closed with a motion picture of the John Muir Trail, narrated by Alley. He and his troop made the pictures as they hiked the trail.

FLOOR MAT

Tweed carpeting on a carpet-textured rubber base makes a versatile mat for use anywhere in the house! Use one by the door to dry wet feet as it cleans them, another by the sink to protect against spills while cushioning the feet; use in heavy traffic areas to protect valuable carpeting. Beige, grey, or green, with non-skid rubber base.
