Fellowship Scheduled For April 7

According to the local resident, "The Church, the World's Hope," will be the theme of the one-day event, starting at 10 a.m. Nearly 400 members of chapters in the Southland are expected to attend.

A "Miss Pioneer" contest, spotlighting pioneer women preachers of the organization, and addresses by Mrs. Evelyn Thompson, missionary to the Philippines, and Mrs. Barbara Edwards, missionary to Panama and Chile, will be features of the four-hour program at which Mrs. Loren Noyes of Glendale, chapters' chairman, will preside.

Birthday shower of linens, kitchen utensils, toilet articles and other useful items will also be on the day's agenda, says Mrs. Vom Steeg. Women have been asked to bring these to restock the shelves of the organization's headquarters in Santa Ana, from where they will be dispersed as needed to the denominations' missionaries around the world.

... Ann Landers

this stunt again, wait near the phone and after she has finished, take her gently and walk her out the front door.

Dear Ann Landers: We are planning to have open house for our 40th wedding anniversary. The trouble is we have lived in this town all our lives and we know everybody.

Our home is not a large one and we can't afford to have a reception at a hotel. We've issued over 200 invitations and every day we think of another three or four people to invite. If the guests would only keep moving we could handle the crowd. My husband suggested that we not ask them to take off their coats, but I know this is wrong.

How can we get people out of the house graciously?—QUO VADIS

Dear Quo Vadis: It's a little late to give you this notice, but I hope you can use it for your 50th. STAGGER hours on the invitations so that everyone doesn't come at once.

Beyond this, there's not much you can do to get people to leave a place when they are enjoying themselves — which after all, is what the party is for.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How to Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope. (Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.) Copyright 1960, Field Enterprises, Inc.

Foremost Lime Cloud Pie Is Quick, Simple, Tasty

More miraculous than a ready-mix is creamy new Lime Cloud Pie. It takes just three minutes. Three minutes, that is, from the turn of the can opener until your two-ingredient masterpiece is piled into a crumb crust and whisked to the table—to be greeted by "Oooo's and Ahhh's."

Lime Cloud Pie, as pretty as it sounds, will keep your guests guessing what is in it. The secret: Foremost fresher-tasting evaporated milk and frozen limeade concentrate. Nothing else.

You may change flavors, using orange or pineapple, but the evaporated milk must be of the fresher-tasting kind, so that its delicate flavor will blend with that of the fruit.

This combination combines and sets so magically that you won't believe your eyes the first time you make it. Right in line with this miracle is its calorie count — less than 100 calories per one-sixth of an 8-inch pie or one-eighth of a 9-inch pie — including the special Low-Calorie Crumb Crust.

If company catches you with your pie tins empty, allow 10 to 12 minutes for mixing and 8 minutes for baking the crust.

Lime Cloud Pie not only cuts cleanly as soon as it's made, but holds its 'come-uppance' for at least two days in the refrigerator. You'll want to keep a couple of cans of fresher-tasting evaporated milk in the refrigerator, since it must be thoroughly chilled to whip calories per one-sixth of an 8-inch pie.

Place ingredients in pie pan. Rub with fingers until evenly blended and crumbly. Press into pan, coating sides and bottom evenly. Bake 8 minutes at 425 degrees. Cool slightly before filling with Lime Cloud filling.

For 8-inch pie: 1/2 cup crumbs, 1 1/2 tablespoons each butter and brown sugar, 1/4 cup non-fat milk powder.

LIME CLOUD PIE
1 cup fresher-tasting (Foremost) evaporated milk, chilled
1/2 cup frozen limeade concentrate
4 or 5 drops green food coloring (optional)
Pour chilled milk and food coloring into unchilled bowl. Whip until it holds soft peaks and is about tripled in bulk. Pour over it the concentrated limeade and whisk quickly to blend. Mixture will set immediately.

Pile into 9-inch Low-Calorie Crumb Crust and serve. May be decorated with sections of canned Japanese mandarin oranges. (Note: For 8-inch pie, use 3/4 cup milk, 3/8 cup limeade and 3 drops coloring.)

LOW-CALORIE CRUMB CRUST
For 9-inch pie:
2/3 cup dry bread crumbs
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1/3 cup instant non-fat milk powder
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
