Board Moves to Add 138 New Classrooms to City Schools

Providing enough classrooms for Torrance's burgeoning youth population was a major order of business at the Torrance Board of Education meeting Tuesday, as it took actions involving 138 new or rehabilitated local classrooms.

The board actions, involving 26 schools and representing more than $4 million in bond funds, were:

1. Adams Elementary School, 2121 W. 238th, will open on Monday, April 18, it was announced. The new facility will relieve presently overcrowded Wood Elementary School and will contain 10 classrooms, administration unit, homemaking and shop facilities, and a cafeteria.

2. Fern Ave. School, 1314 Fern Ave., which has been modernized and rehabilitated to make it earthquake proof, will re-open Monday, April 25, it was announced. The nine classrooms and administration facilities will eliminate double sessions at the Fern-Greenwood plant. The cafeteria, however, will not be in operation.

3. ARCHITECTS were hired to draw plans for the new Hickory Ave. Elementary School, 230th and Hickory. The plant, with 12 classrooms, administration unit, and cafeteria, will serve a new housing tract southwest of Crenshaw and Sepulveda.

4. Subdivider Don Wilson was offered $200,586 for the Hickory Ave. site, which contains about 10 acres. The price includes a number of improvements—grading, street work, sewers, water service, and a wall—already in the process of being installed.

5. AN ARCHITECT was commissioned to draw plans for classroom additions as follows: Magruder, five; Jefferson, Hamilton, and Adams, four each; Parkway and Riviera, three each; Lincoln and Columbia, two each. Music rooms would be added at Magruder, Jefferson, and Parkway.

6. Working drawings were approved for additions at four schools, with bids to be sought starting today and to be awarded on May 3. Additions would include these classrooms: Meadow Park, eight; Flavian and Carr, four each; and Magruder, three. Flavian also would get a music building.

7. The number of classroom additions to Crenshaw School was upped from 6 to 9 and Architect Donley was commissioned to make needed additions.

8. A RESOLUTION seeking to sell $560,000 worth of bonds was adopted. It would provide funds for site work on West High School and for additions to Torrance High School.

9. The board formally accepted additions at 10 schools, following completion of construction.

These include four classrooms each at Edison, Madrona, Steele, Lincoln, Arlington, and Sepulveda Schools; eight at Anza; six classrooms and shop and homemaking facilities at WALTERIA School. All these recently were occupied. A new kitchen at Torrance Elementary School will be occupied on Monday, April 18, and begin service.

Most of this work is done with bond funds, $15,000,000 worth, voted by local citizens in October, 1958. During the past 13 years the number of schools has grown from four to 32 and the number of students from 2000 to more than 25,000.
