BEST BUYS FOR THE WEEK

In Torrance Markets

Lamb. Some markets will have lamb as a featured item. An elegant roast for a spring dinner menu. Lamb is expected from the north in abundant supply in about two weeks.

Ham and Bacon remain steady.

Poultry. Broilers and fryers are still with us at real bargain prices and they are always so satisfying . . . no end to the many ways of preparing this versatile, high protein meat.

ON THE PRODUCE STANDS

The A's have it . . . Artichokes Asparagus Avocados Artichokes are reported in "normal" supply, but many more are reaching our local markets.

Asparagus . . . never better, never more abundant. The warm weather has brought it on so fast that canning and freezing are starting in the famous Delta producing area. With processing beginning so early we are assured of fine asparagus all year.

Avocados continue as our most abundant fruit. Cabbage Cauliflower Celery Romaine Grapefruit from all districts. Strawberries love warm weather . . . they'll start pouring in.

For a change . . . Loquats, Mushrooms and Pineapples.
