Ceasar Rules at Roman Banquet In Torrance High School Setting

Jon Lehr, junior at Torrance High School, played the part of Augustus Caesar and ruled over the annual Roman Banquet held in the Torrance High School Cafeteria on Tuesday, April 28. Assisting Jon in his role of Caesar were Paul Bush as Pontifex and Mike Sargent as Legatus.

The students of the Latin II class and faculty members were the royal guests served by the slaves, members of the Latin I classes. Gail Hyde and Joyce Keeler were the personal slaves of Jon Lehr. Other slaves were Jill Ingram, Randy Garrett, Carol Morse, Susan Smart, Gerry Dikus, Dwan Wroge, Lynn Barrett, Donna Meredith, Jane Strohm, Sherrie Sells, Paula Johnson, and Caloy Loupas.

THE BANQUET started with the grand entry of Caesar, the High Priest's Offering, and the oath to the Empire. After the Gustus (appetizer course), the honored guests were entertained with orations, dances, and musical numbers. Then the Cena (main course) and the Secunda Mensa (dessert) were served. More entertainment followed for the pleasure of Caesar and his guests.

The students participating in the program included Larry Kulp, Carole Echols, Carolyn Loupas, Bill Cosby, Virginia Juvet, Pat Garrett, Betty Mobra, Sharon Parker, Marilyn Holcomb, Judy Minor, Sue Larson, Nancy Hornbeck, Karen Crossman, Tommy Chandler, Darlene Jensen, Pat Dubois, Barbara Huggins, Virginia Bunn, Sachi Ishihara, Barbara Crockett, Carol Johnson, Donna Moore, Dave Fiorelli, Mike Irvine, Mark Fakkedig, and Jean Hutchins.

Pep Squad vs Women Faculty in volleyball was one of the big events last week. The volleyball game took place during both lunches in the gym. The girls from the Pep Squad dressed for comedy, such as; wearing wigs, hats, glasses and even looking like Indians with tom-toms. This activity was, to raise money for Pep Squad pins.

"Summer Stock," the annual Girl's League Variety Show, was a success. With its songs and story "written, stolen and compiled" by Mr. Hoefler. The show lasted for three nights with a good attendance.

FROM SNEAKERS to heels, levis to suits. All of this was seen during Dress-Up Day which the Freshman class sponsored last Friday, Senior Parents Night. Skits were presented and explained to show the parents different activities the Seniors will enjoy. Such skits as Prophecy, Commencement, Field Day, Senior Tea, and All-Night Party were put on by the Seniors.

Samoan villagers, a dancing group with tribal dances including the Fire Dance and Sword Dance was a part of the entertainment presented at the Boys' League Luau. The wild cats provided the music for dancing.

THE LUAU was held April 29. The ticketholders were served a complete meal. The dress was surfers for the boys, sarongs and mu-muus for the girls. The decorations were of Hawaiian atmosphere. There were also orchids for the girls.

SIX NORTH HIGH students took speech awards from Redlands Speech Tournament. Mason Wolpert, Junior, won three superior certificates. Sandra Rayes, Sophomore, won two certificates. Claudia Winkens and Sandra Wegener each won one superior certificate. Karen Jackson took a third place in Impromptu Speaking and was a finalist. Karen helped North High take Fourth Place in the Redlands Tournament.

SPRING FESTIVAL will be held at North High in which 200 students will perform May 4, at 8 p.m. in the gym.

The orchestra will play selections such as "Show Boat," "Mexican Overture," and a

THE GIRLS GLEE, directed by Mrs. Marilyn Steele, will sing such selections as "Lullaby of Rhythm," "I Enjoy Being a Girl," and "Til There Was You." The Mixed Chorus will sing "You'll Never Walk Alone," "Climbin' Up the Mountain," and "Green Cathedral" and will be conducted by Frank Small.

NORTH HIGH SCHOOL is proud of Sophomore Claudia Winkens who recently brought honor to North High by placing first at the UCLA Speech Tournament. She will compete at Santa Barbara on April 29 and 30 in the state finals in the field of Oratorical Interpretation.

Seniors Rochelle Baumgarten and Judy Sheets won first place awards in the Bank of America Zone Finals in the fields of Vocational Arts and Fine Arts. Larry Staat took a second place in the field of Science and Mathematics. Congratulations to these Seniors of North High School.

Southern Sighs

South High School

Friday night, April 23, South High presented its first All-School Play, "320 College Avenue" in the newly open cafeteria. This theatrical production evolved around a spine-tingling mystery with a startling finale. The play and the intermission entertainment was enjoyed by everyone who came to view this event.

CONGRATULATIONS are in order for Spartan Mike Robbins, who successfully competed in the zone competition for Bank of America Achievement Awards. Mike is a representative from South's math and science department. In May, Mike will again compete for the Los Angeles area, where he will receive a cash award of not less than $100 and he may win up to $1000.

AN UNUSUAL controversy is raging in Spartanville — these debates and discussions concern the changing of the present Alma Mater. To settle the situation a new proposed Alma Mater has been written and orchestrated. The present Alma Mater and the proposed one, will both be presented at an aud-cast; played by the band, sung by the choir and then sung by the student body. After the aud-cast a special election will be held to permanently establish the Alma Mater.

THREE WEEKS AGO, the two-story science wing officially opened its doors for some 800 over-anxious science students. The labs are beautifully constructed and feature the latest equipment. Just last week, the Library held its grand opening, as it was visited by college officials and received its college accreditation.

This long-awaited building is now running full-swing and is open in the evening, Tuesday and Thursday, 6:30 to 9:30. Soon to be opened is the new cafeteria. Although school activities are now being held in this building, the actual cafeteria section will not be completed for approximately two weeks.

THE NEWEST CLUB on campus is the Service Club. Honor Society, or as we call them — Order of Athena and Order of Apollo. The members of this organization were selected on their service to the school. The newly-elected president of the Order of Athenas is Mitzi Yoshioka, while Gary Hand will lead the Order of Apollo. The club's present big duty is the controlling of campus problems.

FRIDAY NIGHT, the Boys' League presented the movie, "Mr. Roberts" in the cafeteria. Immediately following the movie, the evening was continued in the gym, where the Boys' League sponsored a dance.
