

Problems of Marriage' Courses Scheduled by El Camino College

"We as human beings, need the thinking of the group to meet the situations that confront us today," Harold Wolpert, El Camino College psych-chology instructor comments in explanation of his course titled "Problems of Marriage." Limited to married persons only, the unique course is described by Wolpert as "strictly functional, because family relations are an around-the-clock business."

"SURPRISINGLY, economics in marriage receives more attention than the more popularly conceived notions of marital conflict," Wolpert said, "but we don't teach budget making."

In the study of marriage economics such important but little understood matters as insurance problems, G.I. benefits, Social Security, will and testaments, and credit buying are examined.

Other areas such as child rearing, in-laws, and sexual relationships are explained from discovered needs presented to the class by participating students. "IF WE CAN teach people to recognize their problems," Wolpert said, "if we can teach them to communicate with one another, we will have done much to prevent the anguish that comes from marital conflict." Wolpert speaks with the authority of 30 years of sociological and psychological work, as a teacher and in private practice. His early studies were made at the University of Kentucky, and he is at present working on his doctoral dissertation at the University of California.

Cities in Area To Honor Hahn At Testimonial

A testimonial banquet will be held in honor of Supervisor Kenneth Hahn at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, May 24, at El Camino College, it was announced today by Banquet Chairman James L. Rush of Gardena. Rush is past president of the Gardena Valley Chamber of Commerce and a pioneer civic leader.

Rush said the testimonial will be supported by a group of civic leaders from the southern section of Hahn's district, including Gardena, Torrance, Lawndale, Hawthorne, Inglewood, and Victoria Park.

He said the meeting was strictly non-political and is being held to honor Supervisor Hahn for his many years of excellent service for the people of the 2nd Supervisory District. Identified tables are available for parties of eight, Rush added, by calling Rush Chevrolet, Davis 3-0300. Tickets are $3 each.

Chambers of Commerce and other civic organizations will award Hahn with plaques and resolutions, according to the announcement.

Dick Fitzgerald, Torrance Chamber of Commerce manager, will emcee the affair which will be "short and to the point" as no long speeches are scheduled.

Aurora, Ill., Picnic

Former residents of Aurora, Ill., will hold their annual picnic at Southgate Park on Sunday, May 22, beginning at 11 a.m.

THE THREE-unit course will be offered at El Camino during the summer session and will carry transfer credit toward work in the fields of sociology and psychology. Registration will be held on June 20 for current students, with classes running from June 22 through August 3.

As a result of student evaluations in past classes, the design of the course is now made upon selected areas of investigation that were listed as the most important in lessening the potential conflicts in marriage.
