Emblem Club's Sixth Annual Show June 4

With summer stealing a march on spring a record turnout is expected to attend the sixth annual fashion show luncheon to be given by Emblem Club 257, June 4, 12:30 p.m. in the Elks Hall, 1735 W. 162nd St. Gardena. Named by president Mrs. Tony Francia to co-ordinate the gala affair as general chairman is Mrs. Erwin Popp, 2nd vice president of the club with Mrs. Al Cegara as co-chairman. "Hail Hawaii" has been chosen for the theme.

Fashions around the clock that are smart, modern and fashionable will be provided. Styles modeled will stay in line with the three "A's," being Attractive, Appropriate and Adaptable; which when co-ordinated make a well dressed person regardless of age or figure. Fee Westfall will commentate the styles which will be modeled by Emblem Club members.

Lana Maust and Mary Jane Smith, daughters of members, will model the junior fashions.

This year there will be the added attraction of children modeling and also young men. This part of the program is under the direction of Mrs. Marvin Knapp, assistant marshal of the club.

Mrs. William Ketchum and Mrs. William Saylor, past president, assisted by their committee will be in charge of decorations duplicating true Hawaiian scenes. The luncheon will consist of foods of the islands. Mrs. Paul Maust, entertainment, will play beautiful music of the islands during the show and luncheon.

Two mammoth door prizes will be awarded as well as numerous smaller prizes, donated by Torrance and Gardena merchants.

This year the club has chosen "The Heart Fund" as its main philanthropy, honoring Tony Francia, founder of Francia Boys Club and Mrs. Genusa, mother of the president, Mrs. Tony Francia.

Mrs. Al Luchsinger and Mrs. Erwin Popp may be called for tickets and reservations.

YOUR PROBLEMS

by Ann Landers

"This Dictator Has a Good Thing"

Dear Ann: I'm a young mother who needs help. Opal is my two-year-old daughter. She's very bright for her age and pretty, too. But I can't go any place without her.

Opal has aunts and grandmothers who would be happy to stay with her any afternoon or evening, but she won't let me out of her sight. When she sees me putting on a hat or coat she screams, holds her breath, and makes such a fuss that I wind up staying at home. She seems to sense it when I have plans to go somewhere and even though I try to sneak out she catches me and spoils everything.

I haven't had an afternoon away from home in so long I'm going to lose my mind if I don't get away from the house. Please help me with this problem.—YOUNG MOTHER.

Dear Young: If Opal told you to go soak your head in a rain barrel, would you do it?

This two-year-old dictator has a pretty good thing going. Unless you establish yourself as the authority in the house, you're going to be in for plenty of grief.

Every young mother should have one afternoon a week away from the house. Make arrangements at once for a day off. TELL the child goodbye with an exclamation point at the end of the sentence—not a question mark. Then leave.

Dear Ann: I'm 14 and have been allowed to attend dances at a teenage center. My girl friend and I have agreed to let our parents take turns driving us down and picking us up. We don't want the kids to know about this as it seems so babyish.

Last evening about 10 minutes before we were supposed to be picked up, a fellow came over and told me my father was standing in the hall with my little sister and brother. He was holding the dog.

Well, I almost had a heart attack. I found my girl friend and we tried to sneak out in a hurry but lots of kids saw us anyway.

On the way home I got into a big argument with my father. He says I am all wet. Don't you think a girl 14 should be allowed to have some pride? I'm sure all the kids are talking. What do you say about this?—EMBARRASSED TEEN

Dear Embarrassed: So—if the kids are talking what can they be saying? It won't hurt your reputation one bit if the word gets around that

Anne Nolley Engaged To Alabaman

At a dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon L. Nolley, 22119 Harvard Blvd., Torrance, the engagement of their daughter, Anne, to Lawrence E. Walston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marlie E. Walston of Mobile, Ala. was announced.

The bride-elect attended Narbonne High school and was graduated from the West Coast Bible college in Fresno in 1958. She is presently employed as an secretary at the North American Aviation Co.

The future bridegroom received degrees from Lee College in Tennessee and Birmingham Southern in Alabama. He is now teaching at the West Coast Bible College in Fresno.

The wedding will take place July 30.

Club Models Fashions: Presents Scholarships

Friends and guests of the Torrance Junior Woman's Club spent an enjoyable evening at the annual "Spool and Bobbin" fashion show held at the clubhouse, 1422 Engracia Avenue, on May 25. All types of clothing were shown, from nightwear to playclothes, from the ever popular shirt-waist daytime dresses to lavish cocktail dresses in velvet and chiffon.

Since each model made her own clothes, a truly symbolic decoration was employed; each girl making a dramatic entrance through a giant spool which was transfixed with a glittering needle.

Great ingenuity as well as sewing ability was displayed, many members combining parts of several different patterns to arrive at designs of their own. Mrs. Richard Gerald did the commentary, introducing everyone, describing each outfit and giving all pertinent details such as pattern number, type of fabric and cost. Well received were the matching mother-and-daughter ensembles. Mrs. Lee Clothworthy, president of the Junior Woman's Club, modeled the Dior suit with which she won first place in the recent Vogue competition. Mrs. Roy J. Apsey, president-elect of the Senior Woman's Club, the only senior model, displayed a co-ordinated costume consisting of a coat and dress, the coat lined with the dress fabric.

During intermission, the winners of the recent music competition, Meryll Drabin, soprano, Mary Titus, flutist, and Margaret Shidler, pianist, played and sang. After their performance they each were presented with a $100 Music Scholarship by Mrs. Kenneth Boulter, out-going president of the Junior Woman's Club. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rube Drabin of Rolling Hills,

Mr. and Mrs. John Titus of Torrance, and Mr. and Mrs. John Shidler of Hollywood Riviera, were honored guests.

The unusual table decorations, which were artificial flowers made of scraps of fabric of the dresses modeled in the show, created a great deal of interest and were purchased by the guests at the close of the evening. Mrs. Robert L. Kerber was chairman of the decorations committee.

Chairman of the gala affair was Mrs. Don Carlson. A special vote of thanks is tendered to her husband, Don, for his back stage work in preparing the props. Hostess for the evening was Mrs. Charles Crandall. Models appearing in the show were Mmes. Edward Alken and daughter, Sunni; Charles Bennett; Kenneth Boulter and daughter, Belinda; Lee Clotworthy; Robert Davis and daughter, Jenny Lynn; E. Faulds and daughters Sheri Lee and Deryl; J. W. Galvin, Robert L. Kerber, Clayton T. Lilley and daughter, Sandy; Elgin Logsdon and Janet; William Michalek and daughters Sandy, Sharon, Debbie and Kim; F. C. Murphy and daughter, Kathleen; J. A. Perry, Leonard Schulwitz and daughter Barbara; W. E. Starr and daughter; John Stokley and daughters, Rutl. and Susan; C. H. Turner and daughter, Debbie; James Waters and son, Tony; and Miss Karin Carlson.

COMMUNITY PRIDE . . . Members of the Beau Jardin Garden Club have been busy beautifying some of the city property to which the city gave its approval. The club members promoted the plants and neighbors are furnishing the water. With picks and shovels the women prepared the ground and are shown planting flowering moss in the parkway on the south side of Sepulveda, west of Palos Verdes Dr. They are from left, Mmes. James Stadler, president; John Beattie, corresponding secretary; Fred Klycinski, publicity, and Robert J. Hill, treasurer.

Wilson-Bourne Nuptials Read in Chapel Service

Wayfarers Chapel was the scene of the six o'clock wedding on Saturday evening, May 21, in which Miss Patricia Lee Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson, 1903 241st St., Lomita, became the bride of Richard Don Bourne. Mr. and Mrs. V. Bourne, 1640 W. 220th St. are parents of the bridegroom.

Mr. Wilson escorted his daughter to the altar. She wore a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle detailed with long pointed sleeves and a scalloped neckline studded with pearl sequins. The full skirt was of lace panels. A crown of lace tulle studded with pearl sequins held the silk illusion veil and the bride carried a bouquet of white orchids encircled by white spider chrysanthemums.

Miss Linda Wilson was her sister's maid of honor. She wore orchid taffeta and carried an orchid net parasol decorated with yellow orchids.

Bridesmaids were Misses Sue Chapman, Polly Basile, Diane Sevard, and Mrs. Lucille Tuck. They were all gowned in yellow low taffeta and carried yellow net parasols and orchid flowers.

Little Shelley Bourne, wearing orchid organdy and carrying an orchid net parasol and yellow flowers, was the flower girl.

Clyde Wilson stood as best man and ushers were L. Broughton, Rodney Williams, Arthur Tuck, Chuck Helton and Harry Saffell.

The Rev. Kenneth Knox officiated at the marriage.

A reception for the 200 wedding guests was held at the home of the bride's parents.

After a honeymoon in Santa Barbara, the newlyweds will be at home at 25610 Narbonne Ave., Lomita.

Mr. and Mrs. Bourne are both graduates of Narbonne High school.
