

CARBIDE is a Family

In Indiana, Texas, and New York; in West Virginia and California, CARBIDE plants are at work 24 hours a day turning out hundreds of chemicals needed by manufacturers in almost every industry. CARBIDE's seven sister plants (with an eighth on the way) are located close to supplies of raw materials and with ready access to markets.

That's why CARBIDE built a plant in Torrance. Here there is a plentiful supply of raw materials needed to make polyethylene plastic, and ethylene glycol-basic ingredient of all-winter anti-freezes. And the West Coast is one of the country's biggest market areas—with an even greater potential.

Producing plants are, of course, just one aspect of CARBIDE. Three research centers are constantly working on new products and processes. Sales offices in major cities throughout the nation serve Carbide's thousands of customers.

Working together, the members of the CARBIDE family help America's industry turn out thousands of better products for you.

HOUSEPOWER is to houses what horsepower is to cars

Lour home, like your car, needs the right amount of power to make it perform efficiently. This is called HOUSEPOWER. It's the ability of your electric wiring to operate all of your electric appliances at peak efficiency at all times.

With HOUSEPOWER you can enjoy the full measure of performance that your electric appliances were designed to deliver.

The advantages of HOUSEPOWER

You'll easily see the difference in a home that has HOUSEPOWER. It probably has more laborsaving electric appliances. And these appliances work better and last longer. If necessary, they can all be turned on at the same time without the problem of blown fuses, tripped circuit breakers, or overloaded wiring. Every room has plenty of convenient outlets-no "octopus" plugs.

But there's one difference you might not see. A home with HOUSEPOWER has the capacity to add new appliances in the future. And so it has greater value.

A simple HOUSEPOWER check

How about your home? Chances are that it doesn't have enough HOUSEPOWER. Today, four out of five houses (even new ones) do not. Here are some common symptoms of low HOUSEPOWER: dim or shrinking TV; toaster or iron slow to heat up; "octopus" 2 and 3-way plugs; blown fuses or tripped circuit breakers.

Call your qualified HOUSEPOWER electrical contractor

If you suspect that some of your appliances aren't working efficiently, call your qualified HOUSEPOWER electrical contractor. He's a specialist trained in electrical modernization. Remember: HOUSEPOWER increases the comforts of day-to-day modern living. It also increases the value of your home. Note to New Home Buyers

HOUSEPOWER is one of the many features included in Medallion homes, so look for the Medallion emblem before you buy. It's your assurance that the house is designed for the comforts of the all-electric future. Only one new home in five qualifies for this award.

Launch Lehi V Saturday in King Harbor

The Raft Lehi V will slide The Raft Lehl V will slide down the ways during the 1960 Neptune Days Marinarama according to Chairman, Neal Howard and Raft Skipper, Captain De Vere Baker.

The historic launching is scheduled to take place at 5 p.m. Saturday, according to Howard.

The Lehi V has been built by its famous skipper during the past winter and will begin a six months training cruise off California shores as soon as the Neptune Days Activities are over.

Captain Baker expects to spend the next three and one half years with a crew of nine scientists drifting 14,000 miles around the world.

Mates, Don MacFarland and Don Johnson, report they expect to load the forty foot raft aboard an England freighter next March. From there they will make landings in France, Spain, Portugal, Gilbraiter, Italy, Greece, Suez Canal, Muscat of Ohman, Bombay, India, Colombo, Cylan, Sumatra, Manila, Philippines, Formosa, Japan, Aleutian Islands, Seattle, Washington, Redondo Beach, and Guatamala.
