HOME SHOW SLATED AT COUNTY FAIR

Plans are being completed for the first annual "Greatest Homes on Earth" show, a spectacular $100,000 exhibit of Southern California tract and custom homes along with the world's most famous homes such as the White House, Buckingham Palace, the Taj Mahal and the homes of motion picture stars, which will be a feature attraction of the Los Angeles County Fair, Sept. 16 through Oct. 2.

Occupying an entire 26,400 square foot building, the exhibit of homes available in the Southland will be one of the largest ever displayed at the Fair. It will be sponsored by the Building Contractors Assn. of California with the cooperation of the Southern California and Southern Counties Gas Companies.

and entertaining at home, and other subjects of interest to present and prospective home owners will be presented, Schneider said.

EACH HOME exhibit will feature a large colored and brilliantly lighted reproduction of the home as well as drawings and photographs of rooms and a complete account of the features, financing and other particulars.

"We want the public to judge for themselves whether the homes being offered by builders in Southern California are the greatest homes on earth for value received from their investment," Schneider said.

Many manufacturers will exhibit new models of appliances, air conditioning units and other home appointments which will be integrated into the show rather than being presented in individual displays, he disclosed. Exhibits of modern commercial and industrial buildings will occupy one section of the building.

FAIR VISITORS will have an opportunity to compare the comfort and livability of homes in all price ranges currently available in southern California with the world famed homes. Don N. Schneider, BCA president disclosed.

"Most people will be agreeably surprised to find that modestly priced homes here are more comfortable and have greater conveniences than do many of the famous homes," he said. "They do not realize the exceptional construction value and advances in design, construction and facilities that are contained in southern California homes."

A SERIES of special events will be scheduled for the stage area of the building and newest models of appliances will be shown.

Individual displays of custom and tract homes being offered by builders in all price ranges and in all areas of Southern California will be keyed to a huge map with the locations of the homes indicated. A telephone will be mounted at each builder display correspondingly numbered to the home locations on the map which the visitor may pick up to hear a full description of the homes he is interested in.

At designated times daily during the 17-day fair, live demonstrations of interior decorating, landscaping, kitchen planning, cooking, fashion shows of clothing for living

AN OUTSTANDING example of the increasingly popular two-story homes will be on exhibit adjacent to the show building and will also be presented under the sponsorship of the contractors association.
