Shell Chemical Will Expand Local Plant

Shell Chemical Company today announced that it is expanding its styrene production facilities in Torrance.

Styrene is a chemical intermediate used in making plastics and general purpose synthetic rubber.

J. P. Cuuvingham, general manager of the Torrance installation, said the current expansion program, scheduled for completion early in 1961, will raise the plant's capacity to 210 million pounds a year.

Shell has been in the styrene market since 1955, when it purchased the synthetic rubber plant here from the U.S. Government. The styrene facilities, which are part of the integrated operation, had a rated capacity of 125 million pounds a year in 1955. Completion of the new construction program will mark a total expansion of nearly 70 per cent since the plant has been in private operation.

Raw materials for styrene are benzene and propane, which are produced in large quantities in Southern California by Shell and other refineries that supply the local plant.

Swim Teams Organized at Alondra Park

Work outs are being held daily from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. at Alondra Lake Pool, 3535 W. Redondo Beach Blvd., for competitive swimming teams to represent the pool in a series of swim meets which will take place later this month.

Team membership is open to all boys and girls who are under the age of 16 years, and youngsters who wish to try out should contact the pool office.

Participants in the swim meet program which is sponsored by the Los Angeles County Department of Parks and Recreation, will be trained to compete in four basic aquatic competition events: 50 meter free style, 50 meter breast stroke, 50 meter back stroke, and 100 meter free style.

There is no fee charged for participation in the program whose purpose is to give youngsters an opportunity to learn how to swim in competition.
