Top El Camino Students Honored In Annual Service Awards Fete

Presentation of the Forrest G. Murdock Leadership award to El Camino coed Sue Steele of Inglewood, highlighted the Semi-annual Student Service Awards Banquet on campus last week.

The award was presented by Henrietta Martin, assistant director of student personnel, before an audience of 300 gathered to witness final honors for student achievement for the year.

Two unprecedented awards were presented to Orley Lindgren, recently resigned Associated Student president, and William L. Davies Jr., coordinator of student activities.

To Davies, who will continue at El Camino in the capacity of instructor, Student Council presented a clock and desk set thanking him for his years of service.

LINDGREN, OF Inglewood, was forced to resign his post when family illness demanded his time. The Council presented him an engraved gavel for his outstanding service and work. Jack Kingsley, forensic coach, accepted the award for Lindgren, who was at the bedside of his critically ill sister.

The outstanding group award of the evening, presentation of Alpha Gamma Sigma gold pins, was made to 30 El Camino students whose scholastic records earned them the coveted distinctions.

Corona del Camino, the honorary service organization on campus announced members selected recently for membership. Dennis Mangers, Lawndale, El Camino alum and former Associated Student president named Mayben Appleby, Inglewood; Bob Davis, Manhattan Beach; Sue Hamilton, Los Angeles; Mary McCoy, Redondo Beach; Jackie Nixon, Gardena; Felicia Perrotti, Inglewood; Loretta Schultz, Gardena and Miss Steele to the honor group.
