

YOUR PROBLEMS

by Ann Landers

"Cut Out the Second Shift..."

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a very unhappy girl who will be 16 in September. I've always been grown up for my age and I started to date when I was 12. I guess you'd call me popular because I have always had more dates than I could accept. (Some nights I go out with one fellow from 7 to 10 p.m. and another one from 10 to 1 a.m.).

I'm beginning to wonder about my reputation. It seems that the very first time I go out with a guy he tries to paw me. I have necked with a few fellows, I'll admit, but I am not interested in making friends through the braille system with the whole school. Please tell me how I can protect my reputation. — POPULAR BUT DECENT

Dear P. But D.: One way you can protect your reputation is to cut out the second shift. A girl who has to stagger the traffic suggests that she needs more company than sounds respectable.

No doubt a few of the fellows you have necked with have been performing as publicity agents. Try a new approach — hands off, one and all. And don't go out with every fellow who asks for a date. If you're selective it will do wonders for your reputation.

Dear Ann Landers: I need some advice but nobody will give me an unprejudiced opinion because everybody I know has personal feelings about this matter.

I married young and had a baby boy the first year. My husband died shortly after the baby was born and I remained a widow for three years. Now I am married to a very nice man and we have three children of our own. The oldest boy keeps begging me to change his last name so that it will be the same as his father's and his brothers'.

I want to do it but my first husband's parents are raising violent objections. They say I owe it to the memory of their son to keep his name alive through this boy. Please tell me what to do. I am going crazy trying to decide what is right. — GUILTY CONSCIENCE

Dear Guilty: If the boy wants to change his name so it will be the same as the old daddy he has ever known, I say change it.

You can use your first husband's name as the boy's middle name. Then, for example, you can call him Robert Allison Brown.

Dear Ann Landers: Please print this for "Life is Lousy" and "World Destroyed."

A few days ago I had a quick lunch at a restaurant where my husband and I frequently have dinner. The waitress said, "Would you mind if I told you something? It makes us feel so good when you and your husband come in. You are so in love with each other."

I went back to my office, closed the door and bawled for about ten minutes. Then I thanked God for my blessings.

We are both in our 50's now. My husband is one of those big handsome lugs and women can't keep their hands off him. About 20 years ago he became involved and it lasted almost seven years. I decided to weather the storm — and I did. No self-pity, no accusations, no tears, no recriminations and no running to relatives.

It's rough but it's worth it. They say a piece of steel that breaks and is welded is twice as strong — and it's true. —

Darlene, student at Torrance High school, was guest of honor at a farewell party given by her long-time friend Kathleen Thornton. The guest list was comprised of Torrance High students.

Eileen Rhodes Becomes Bride of H. D. Crosby, Jr.

In a double ring, candlelight ceremony last Sunday afternoon, June 11, at 2 o'clock, at the Crenshaw Christian Church, Miss Eileen Marie Rhodes exchanged wedding vows with Holmes Daniel Crosby, Jr. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Rhodes, 18029 Haas Ave., Torrance. Mrs. Bertha King of Culver City is the mother of the bridegroom.

As the 500 wedding guests assembled, Mrs. Dorothy Bryarly played a background of nuptial music and accompanied Steven Stewart who sang "Because," "Love is a Many Splendored Thing" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Rhodes escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. She was gowned in Chantilly lace and silk organza. The bodice of lace had a Sabrina neckline embroidered with sequins and pearls. The skirt of silk organza was bordered with scalloped lace which was caught up at the center front. The back of the skirt was tiered and fell into a chapel train. The fingertip illusion veil was secured by a crown of sequins and pearls. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Mary Chudy, wearing an aqua silk organza sheath with a lace overskirt and carrying a bouquet of deep pink carnations, was the maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Misses Jean Paxton, Wendy Putnam, Marcia Bailey, Darlene Post and Veronica Carter. All were gowned in aqua organza and their bouquets were of pale pink carnations. Amy Angel, in a pale pink frock, was flower girl and the rings were carried by Johnny Ryan.

Howard Zerker stood as best man and ushers were Mickey Smith, Robert Kelly, Harry Ryan, Robert Rhodes and Marvin Jackson.

Dr. J. M. Applegate officiated at the marriage.

A reception was held at the church. A six tiered wedding cake in pink and white centered the bride's table. Miss Cathy Fitzgerald was in charge of the guest book.

The newlyweds are on a honeymoon in Las Vegas.
