Marshall Laboratories Starts New Building

Groundbreaking ceremonies marking the start of construction of a new 10,500 square foot building to house Marshall Laboratories were conducted Monday at the Delores and Andre Sts. site in Torrance.

Using the Torrance Chamber of Commerce "symbol of growth" golden shovel, George M. Barr, vice president of Marshall Laboratories, turned the first shovel of earth for the new building.

Taking part in the ceremonies were William W. Holt, controller; George Takahashi, manager for economic development, and Donna Welcome, executive secretary, Marshall Laboratories; Harold G. Frentz, Torrance Chamber of Commerce president, and Don Reinling, Chamber of Commerce manager.

The modern one-story air conditioned structure will be of concrete tilt-up construction and will accommodate the administrative offices, laboratories and manufacturing facilities of the recently organized company.

Established here last November, Marshall Laboratories, a subsidiary of Marshall Industries, San Marino, is engaged in the development and manufacturing of electronic equipment for the missile and space vehicle industry.

Presently located at 2008 W. Carson St., the company plans to move to the new quarters next January. The building is being built by the Del Amo Estate Co. and will be occupied by Marshall Laboratories on a lease basis.

"They tell you to keep your eye on the ball, your shoulder to the wheel, your ear to the ground. How are you going to get any work done in a position like that?" — Edward A. Bandjough, Wewahitchka (Fla.) Gulf County Breeze.

"The fight today is with dollars, not men. The nation must not drain away the substance that symbolizes the nation's system of freedom, enterprise, opportunity and reason for labor." — Charles H. Browne Jr., Horton (Kans.) Headlight.

Win Taken By L.A. Man

Frank Denny, Los Angeles wheeled his Oldsmobile into the lead on the first lap and went on to a wire victory in Saturday night's CJA Stock Car races at Gardena's Western Speedway.

Denny roared past Dick Miller (Venice) on the second corner for the lead and was never pressured again in the 40-lap feature. Finishing second, five car lengths behind, was Dick Cook of Lakewood (Hudson), while Chubby Chatto, San Fernando (Olds) was over third. Fourth went to Arley Scranton, Compton (Olds), with Bob Bannuelos, Van Nuys (Olds), fifth.

Hard luck driver of the night was Inglewood's Ronnie Donelson driving a giant Lincoln. Donelson set the fastest qualifying lap of the night at 23.49. He started twentieth in the night's feature and had worked his way up to second with two laps to go when he was spun by another driver, putting him out of the race.

TAHITIAN ENTERTAINER . . . Currently headlining the new show at The Polynesian Restaurant in Torrance is exotic Emma Terangi of Tahiti. The captivating dancer-singer entertains during the cocktail hours and twice nightly except Mondays at the tropical dining establishment.
