Year Opens Oct. 4

Outstanding Program Scheduled for Club

Torrance Woman's club, which opens its year with a catered luncheon at the clubhouse on Oct. 4, looks forward to a year of exceptionally fine programs as released by Mrs. Jay P. Bay and her committee who have spent the summer attending artists' auditions and making a fine choice of local talent of special interest to the women of Torrance.

At the first meeting, new members will be welcomed and introduced to the membership. Mrs. Lee Stamps, president, will conduct a short business meeting following the luncheon.

Members will then be entertained by Beatrice Oliver, soprano, and Seama Green, pianist, who will present favorite songs from "My Fair Lady." Miss Oliver is originally from London, England, where she was featured at the Palladium and in London musical comedy. Miss Green is affiliated with the MGM vocal department and is accompanist for many top singing stars.

On Oct. 18, the American Field Service Section, Mrs. L. G. Pulliam, chairman, will present Jerri Lynn Creekmore, North High, and Anne Coulter, South High, who will speak on their stay in Istanbul, Turkey, during the past summer. Y-Teens from the Torrance YWCA will be presented by Mrs. J. K. Clutter, president of the YWCA.

On Nov. 1, Mrs. Frank Giordino of the Tie-Tie Ribbons Co. will give a demonstration on "Bows for Every Occasion."

The Literature Section, Mrs. Godfrey Nelson chairman, will present the Nov. 15 program.

Dr. Fred M. Judson, humorist and inspirational lecturer, will give the Christmas message, "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear" at the Dec. 6 meeting.

Special music will be featured at the annual Christmas party on Dec. 20.

Miss Nina Lee, interior decorator, will give a lecture, "What Your Home Says About You," at the Jan. 3 meeting.

A program on "Charm and Modeling" by the Ann Zior school will highlight the Jan. 17 meeting.

Betty Kimber and singers from the Long Beach Civic Light Opera will present a musical program "Love and Marriage" at the family night meeting on Feb. 7.

League of Women Voters will present the program on Feb. 21, under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. E. Dillon.

On March 7, Marina district officers and chairman will be guests when Mrs. Jean Dori, monologist of Pasadena, gives some readings.

The three foreign exchange students, who are staying with Torrance families and attending local high schools under the AFS program, will stage the March 21 program. They are Armando Madrazo of Tucuman, Argentina, who is living with the Richard Bullington family; Aud Klezen of Hegrd, Norway, who is living with the Charles Bartholomew family; and Stepheno Balsamo of Rome, Italy, staying with the Ralph Swain family.

The club's own talent, Mrs. Sid Gans, contralto, will present a musical program titled "Broadway Past and Present" at the April 4 meeting.

Torrance Footlight Theater group will present the April 18 program under the direction of Mrs. David Lyman, drama chairman.

The annual "Hat Fantasy" has been slated for May 2. An oriental tea has been planned and Lee Young, Chinese novelty singer, will delight the audience with his three octave range voice.

The Goodwill Industries will present "Fashions of Yesterday" at the May 1 meeting and the year will close June 6 with installation of officers and special music.
