"You Could Wind Up Paying Dearly"

Dear Ann Landers: I've had so much free advice from relatives that my head is swimming. Now I'd like your opinion because I know you'll give it to me straight.

I'm 38, once divorced, and once widowed. I've worked hard all my life and I can't say that either marriage was a good one. Now I've met a man who is 78 and wants to marry me. He was married to the same woman for 52 years and now that she's gone he is lonely. He has no close relatives.

He is very well-fixed financially and has offered to sign everything over to me the day we marry. I know I could make him happy. He expects only companionship.

I'm tired of working and fighting off men who have everything in mind except marriage. What do you say?

—THROUGH THE MILL

Dear Mill: If you marry this man the announcement should appear in the financial section, not on the society page.

You could wind up paying dearly for the security which you consider so precious. A husband with one foot in the grave and the other on a banana peel could be looking for a nurse for the next 10 or 15 years. Does the role appeal to you? Consider this possibility and then make your decision.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's mother has been keeping our baby. Both my husband and I work. Last night she told us that we'd better start to look around for someone else because she doesn't feel she should take care of our child while we spend money in the taverns. She said if we had to pay someone, maybe we would drink less.

We do go out once in a while but we don't drink THAT much. We are not drunks as she is making us out to be. This whole accusation is very unfair. I think she is just trying to get out of taking care of the baby because she is tired of being tied down. She has always said she loves the baby but it sure doesn't sound like it. What do you think?—DISGUSTED

Dear Disgusted: It sounds as if your husband's mother finally got up the nerve to insist that you two good-time Charlies accept your parental responsibilities.

Your suggestion that she is "trying to get out of something" is interesting, indeed. (Continued on Page 15)

Hospital Auxiliary Begins Fall Season

The Little Company of Mary Hospital Auxiliary held the first general meeting of the fall season at the Nativity Parish auditorium, on Wednesday, Sept. 20.

Mrs. Frank H. Forester, president of the auxiliary, introduced the guest speaker, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas McCarthy, St. Peter Alcantara Parish, Rolling Hills, who gave an enlightening speech entitled "Charity in the Truest Sense of the Word." Msgr. McCarthy emphasized that kindness was a very important quality in serving patients in a hospital; and that the Auxiliary was prompted to service through love of their fellow men.

Mrs. Frank Forester announced that there would be five meetings a year, and told of a need for more volunteers in the hospital. Any one who would like to work in any capacity please phone the nursing service at the hospital.

The following chairmen need volunteers:

Mrs. Lyle E. Peters, library chairman, needs women to work in the patient's library, taking books to the patients on each floor. Books are also needed in the field of fiction, light non-fiction, and condensed books. Mrs. Don R. Hardin needs more women to take the baby photos to the new mothers on the maternity floor. Mrs. Raymond Reed needs volunteers to assist at the maternity teas.

Mrs. Paul Hogan announced that dues for 1962 would be payable in January, and that any changes of address or telephone numbers of the members should be sent to the Auxiliary office in the hospital.

Anyone wishing to serve on the newly formed telephone committee please phone the Auxiliary office.

Mrs. Gerald Revell, chairman of the "Day at the Races Benefit," which will be held Oct. 14 at the Hollywood Park Turf Club, said that tickets are available by calling her.

Refreshments were served given by the sisters of the hospital. Mother Lucy led the closing prayers.

Sharon Rice Exchanges Vows with D. W. Hyatt

Flowers banked the altar of the Hollypark Methodist Church last Saturday morning for the 11 o'clock wedding ceremony uniting Miss Sharon Louise Rice and Donnie Wayne Hyatt. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence T. Rice, 3124 W. 168th St., Torrance. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Hyatt, 2615 W. 178th St., Torrance.

Rev. T. C. Boss officiated at the marriage ceremony as the church organist played a medley of nuptial music. Thomas Kennedy was soloist.

The bride came to the altar on the arm of her father. She wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace over nylon tulle. The portrait neckline was accented by pearls and sequins. A pearl crown held the three tiered illusion veil. The bridal bouquet was of white orchids and gladiolus.

Miss Karen Simpson was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Misses Barbara

'Pink Elephant' Benefit Saturday

"Pink Elephants on Parade" is the theme of the annual party to be given by the South Bay Mothers Club for members and guests on Saturday Sept. 30 at 8:30 p.m. The dance will be held in the Fred Astaire Dance Studio in Torrance and is one of the major philanthropic projects of the year. Proceeds will be used to assist the needy family which the club adopted. Social Chairman, Mrs. Ronald Eisman of Torrance has planned a gala evening of dancing and games. A door prize will be given.

Mrs. Gordon Garrett of Harbor City has arranged for chips and dips to be served with drinks during the evening. Coffee and sandwiches will be available later.

Humorous entertainment provided by talented members and husbands has been planned by Committee Chairmen Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Baumgardner of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Meier of San Pedro. Mr. Ronald Eisman will act as master of ceremonies during the program. Mr. and Mrs. Dave Weston of Wilmington, Mr. and Mrs. John Adams of San Pedro, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Barker and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Eisman all of Torrance will take part in several skits. The program will be followed by cha cha lessons given by a studio representative for the entire party of 150.

Intriguing decorations in the form of pink elephants and pink and silver petal balls have been made by Mrs. Douglass of Torrance and will fit the varying shades of lavender in the decor of the studio. A thirty foot keyboard will be hung on one wall with black musical notes arranged to the music of "Pink Elephants on Parade."

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Ronald Eisman or Mrs. John Adams.
