ROBERT C. JACKSON
Receives Promotion

New President Named by Ryan

Election of Robert C. Jackson as president of the Ryan Aeronautical Co., to be effective Nov. 1, was announced by T. Claude Ryan, chairman of the board.

Ryan, who has held the positions of president and chairman, continues as chairman of the board and chief executive officer. Jackson has been the company's executive vice president for the past two years.

Duties of the chief executive officer and chief operating officer, both formerly filled by the president and chairman, are now divided between the two positions.

JACKSON, who has been associated with the Ryan Aeronautical Co. since his appointment as director in 1957, was graduated from Stanford University in 1929. After advanced studies at Harvard Graduate School of Business, he returned to Stanford and there obtained his master's degree at the Graduate School of Business. In 1934 he became a certified public accountant in California.

Before joining the Ryan organization, Jackson had extensive experience as an industrial and business executive in Southern California. Following work with Lybrand, Ross Brothers and Montgomery as a public accountant, he was associated with the Security First National Bank and with the West Shore Co.

As vice president and general manager of West Shore, Jackson managed and operated subsidiary companies in the fields of construction, investment, machine tools, petroleum production, nuclear instrumentation, fish canning and real estate development.

COMMISSIONED as a second lieutenant in the Field Artillery in 1929, Jackson took part in the invasion of North Africa, Italy, and Southern France.

Prior to war's end he was ordered back from Germany to the Pentagon and, as a lieutenant colonel, headed up the War Department's interim finance operations for contract termination. He received a Bronze Star, four Battle Stars and other theatre decorations in the European campaign.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, and two of their sons, live in their newly completed Presidio Hills home in San Diego.

Adult Volleyball Set

Adult volleyball will be available at the South High School gymnasium on Wednesday from 7 to 10 p. m. it was announced today by the Torrance Recreation Department. Red Moon will direct the activities which are open to all and will last through the current school year.

Completing recruit training, Sept. 14, at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, was Marine Pvt. Robert E. Joseph, son of Donald W. Joseph, 17210 Eastwood Ave. The 11-week, four-phase training includes physical conditioning, history and mission of the Marine Corps, customs and courtesies, hygiene and sanitation and basic military subjects.
