

New Symbol Identifies Local Employment Office

A new metal sign bearing a symbol identifying the local employment service with more than 1,800 other offices as part of a nationwide public employment service was installed at the local public employment office today, Murray Love, manager Torrance office, California State Employment Service, announced. The Torrance employment office is one of the 100 local offices of the California State Employment Service.

The symbol features silhouettes of a man and woman entering a doorway of a local office. It bears the legend "Public Employment Service" at the top and the words "Service for Everyone — Local - State - National" at the bottom.

LOVE INTERPRETED the symbol as signifying the door of opportunity—a door open to all people seeking suitable job opportunities and to all employers seeking qualified workers.

"A major purpose of the new symbol is to build up goodwill for the public employment service," Love said. "Industry has been successful in building up goodwill and improving its image to the public through the use of symbols. I am confident our new symbol will make a real contribution to making our services better understood and more widely used.

"WE HOPE the new symbol will become associated in the public mind with good and useful services."

The public employment service was created by the Wagner-Peyser Act of 1933. The Act directed the U.S. Labor Department to create the United States Employment Service and to establish and maintain a nationwide system of State-administered and territorial employment services which would provide placement and other services to workers, employers, and the public.

The system includes employment services in the 50 States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and Guam.

There is, perhaps, no surer mark of folly than an attempt to correct the natural infirmities of those we love. The finest composition of human nature, as well as the finest china, may have a flaw in it; and this, I am afraid, in either case, is equally incurable — though nevertheless, the pattern may remain of the highest value.

—HENRY FIELDING

Garden Checklist

1. Cineraria plants may be set out from nursery flats for late winter bloom. Pot some for a portable display.
2. Spring bulb planting should go into high gear this month. Daffodils, tulips, hyacinths, ranunculus—plant all of them.
3. Choose potted chrysanthemums for display indoors as well as out.
4. Bait for snails and slugs. They are ever present, but needn't be if you act against them.
5. Plant early blooming sasanqua camellias now for a longer camellia season.

Renowned Artists to Present an 'Evening in Paris' at Marymount

Melodies of the lives and loves of Paris will be featured when the popular team of Sven and Anne Reher present "An Evening in Paris" at Marymount College on Monday, Oct. 16, on the Palos Verdes Estates campus.

Viola recording artist is accompanied by his wife Anne on the program, who doubles at the piano and serves as a raconteur of the tales that make Paris the center of fun, fashion, and sophistication.

Composers who combined the Champs Elysees, the Montmartre, and the Seine with their wine, women, and songs will be featured during the informal and nostalgic evening.

Reher is recognized as one of the outstanding violinists in America and has appeared frequently at the Hollywood Bowl. He attended the Berlin Academy of Music, was a student of Arnold Schoenberg, and is presently under contract to the 20th Century-Fox Studios.

Anne Reher was a scholarship student at the Denver Conservatory, and in subsequent studies developed her talents as a writer and speaker. She has also appeared on numerous lecture tours, in addition to performing with her husband.

"Evening in Paris" will begin at 8 p.m. in the Student-Faculty Center.

New Stock Now Listed

A new symbol, H.A.R., appeared Tuesday for the first time on the New York Stock Exchange when trading began in the A Common Stock of Harvey Aluminum (Incorporated) of Torrance. Harvey is one of the nation's six producers of primary aluminum.

Outgrowth of a business started in 1914, Harvey became a publicly held corporation in June, 1960, when 750,000 of A Common shares were sold by an underwriting group headed by Kuhn, Loeb and Co., Incorporated, and Tucker, Anthony and R. L. Day.

IN JULY of this year an additional 1,000,000 shares of A Common Stock were sold to the public, the proceeds to be used by the company for expansion and working capital. Lawrence A. Harvey, board chairman, said that the company is developing its own bauxite mining reserves in various countries and planning an alumina plant to process ore to supply its reduction facilities.

The company is modernizing a major wrought aluminum production facility at Adrian, Mich. The company also intends to add to its fabricating facilities in order to produce a broadened range of rolled aluminum products including wire, sheet, plate, and strip.

IN ITS MOST recent earnings statement Harvey reported record sales and profits for the nine months ending June 30. Net sales for the period were $65,820,247 as compared to $42,827,955 for the similar nine months last year, an increase of 54.4 per cent. Net income, which rose 37.9 per cent, was $5,075,258, equal to $1.07 per share, as compared to $3,679,377 or 77 cents per share for the like period for the previous year, based on 4,750,000 shares outstanding on June 30, 1961.

In the fabrication of aluminum, Harvey produces a wide range of aluminum mill products. It is also a leading producer of titanium and zirconium mill commodities for defense applications, for nuclear reactors, and other uses.

In addition to its fabricating facilities at Torrance, Harvey operates an aluminum reduction at The Dalles, Ore.

the Great Books speak to Today...

Have not the wisest men in all ages, not excepting Solomon himself, have they not had their hobby-horses? . . . And so long as a man rides his hobby horse peaceably and quietly along the king's highway and neither compels you or me to get up behind him — pray, sir, what have either you or I to do with it?

—LAURENCE STERNE

We are easily shocked by crimes which appear at once in their full magnitude; but the gradual growth of our wickedness, endeared by interest and palliated by all the artifices of self-deceit, gives us time to form distinctions in our favor.
