Orientation Coffee Set By AAUW

Invitations have been mailed to more than 40 new members of the Palos Verdes-Rolling Hills branch of the American Association of University Women—those who have joined the branch since last April 1—to attend an Orientation coffee hour at the home of Mrs. Donald Randolph, Orientation chairman of the Membership committee, 925 Via Panorama, Palos Verdes Estates, on Monday, Oct. 9, at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Randolph will tell something of the aims and purposes of the Palos Verdes-Rolling Hills branch and will introduce Mrs. Harold O. Simar, branch president, who will report on the regional workshop held Oct. 6 and 7 at Palm Springs and attended by several members of the branch.

Mrs. Randolph will then introduce some of the study group chairmen, who will briefly sketch their plans for the year and be ready to sign up interested newcomers.

These chairmen include Mmes. Harry G. Petterson, creative arts; Robert D. Ferguson, elementary and secondary education; Joseph Goodwin, higher education; Fred C. Allen, legislative; and Mr. Maxine Ziegler, international regulations.

Mrs. Petterson will introduce several of the chairmen who lead special study sections in Arts, including Mmes. Dean C. Dunlavey of the morning book section; Erwin D. Rhodes of the new evening book section; Wallace Landford, who will conduct the first few lessons in the art appreciation section; and Harold Hirschland, who will continue her classes in ceramics.

Mrs. Thomas Harding, first vice-president and membership chairman, urges any woman who is a graduate of an approved college or university and is interested in joining the AAUW to attend this orientation session and get acquainted with the activities and aims of the branch. Those interested in attending may get in touch with Mrs. Thomas Harding.

Alumnae Will Meet Tuesday

South Bay Chi Omega Alumnae will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Joseph C. Groth, Jr., 734 Esplanade, Redondo.

This group, which has selected the Garden Valley School for Mentally Retarded Children as its main philanthropy, will help prepare visual aids to be used in the curriculum at the school.

Chi Omega alumnae in the area may contact Mrs. Groth for further information.

Dinner Party

Prior to the "Pink Elephant" party given by the Mothers of Twins club Saturday evening at the Fred Astaire studio, Mr. and Mrs. James Alexander entertained their guests at dinner at the Jump'n Jack restaurant. Guests were Messrs. and Mmes. John David and Chuck Gibbons of Torrance and Donald Douglass of Bellflower.

Housewares Show Slated At Broadway

Mary Ann March, test kitchen director for Ecco Products Company, will appear at The Broadway Del Amo on Oct. 11 in the Housewares Dept. at 2 p.m. and at 7 p.m.

Miss March will present a clever program which will be of great interest to homemakers of the Southland. She will demonstrate the use of flowers in exotic recipes as well as the art of unusual garnishes for food platters in the form of decorative vegetable carving.

Miss March admits that most people are skeptical of using flowers for cooking. "But the same taboos once held for such staple items as potatoes and tomatoes, so I'm not really surprised. Yet, after all, flowers and vegetables often spring from the same family trees—lilies and garlic, for example, and chrysanthemums and terragon. So why would cooking with flowers seem so strange?"

Another interesting segment of her demonstration will be the preparation of low-calorie meals with low-priced goods without sacrificing flavor or restricting the diet to a few foods of low caloric content. This lovely, vivacious woman, who has headed research in Ecco Test Kitchens for the past 13 years, speaks with fullest conviction and complete sincerity on the newest and best way to lose weight and keep it lost the year around.

Wesleyan Guild Begins New Season

Wesleyan Service Guild held its first meeting of the fall season Tuesday evening, Sept. 18, at the First Methodist church with 37 members present.

After dinner and a prayer period, a business meeting was held at which announcements were made of the fund raising projects including a rummage sale on Oct. 20 and 21 in the kindergarten room at the church. Hours will be 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Oct. 20 and 9 a.m. until noon on Oct. 21.

Miss Pauline Greer reported that eight members attended the guild weekend at Cal Western. Miss Greer reported on the session.

Miss Peggy Campbell, guest speaker, who spent three years in missionary work in the Belgian Congo, showed slides of Elizabethville, current in today's news. Five new members welcomed were Miss Mollie Marshall, Mmes. Irene Steele, Peggy Jones, Hamlin Shaler and Helen Smith.

Mrs. Cline Holland closed the meeting with worship service.

Luncheon Guests

Mrs. M. A. Wright had her luncheon guests last Tuesday at her home, 1532 El Prado. Mmes. William Poser, Paul Winn and Kenneth McVey.
