Players to Open Season With Williams Drama

"Summer and Smoke," a tender and exciting dramatic hit from the pen of Tennessee Williams, has been selected by the Palos Verdes Players to open their new season Nov. 10 at Malaga Cove Auditorium. There will be six performances including two Sunday matinees.

Set in a sleepy small town in Mississippi about the turn of the century, "Summer and Smoke" is the story of a sensitive young spinster who has adored the roistering doctor next door since they were classmates as children. She stresses the spiritual quality of love, while he finds no place for the soul in his anatomy chart.

ANNE SUTTON, well known to Peninsula audiences for her many outstanding roles, has won the leading part of Alma Winemiller. Johnny Buchanan, the brilliant but dissipated object of Alma's affections, will be played by Bill Dusablon.

George Tremble, Sue Hanson, Penny Ransom, Paul Warf, Judy Berry, Luiz Carlos Lobo, Rosemary Buell, Bill Sowell, Ruth Ayres, Leon Bieberg, Gene Fitzmaurice, and Paul Baker complete the large cast. The director is Gladys Manu.

The unusual set, which encompasses a park, the doctor's office, and a room in the rectory, is being designed by Roger Elliott. A life-size kneeling angel, has been made from plaster-of-paris to special order for "Summer and Smoke" by amateur sculptor Bill Sowell.

Appeal Made For Storage Warehouse

Annual Holiday service project of the Torrance Family YMCA is suffering "growing pains" according to Joseph Wilcox Jr., executive secretary.

Annually, the local Y sends several truckloads of clothing, canned goods and toys to the Navajo Indians in Arizona, but this year a new place is needed to store the gifts, Wilcox said.

Any garage, warehouse or other suitable area will be appreciated, he said. The Y telephone number is FA 8-1272.

The collection for the "Navajo Christmas" is a part of the Torrance High School program. The teenagers will accompany the goods on their delivery to Arizona.
