Veterans Day: A Time to Honor Patriots and Renew Loyalties

Saturday is a day on which we remember the brave soldiers, sailors, marines, and other members of the armed forces of the United States, living and dead, who have served or are now serving this Republic, in order that we may continue to be an independent, sovereign nation, dedicated to the proposition that all men and women are created free and equal under God.

The first Armistice Day was Nov. 11, 1918, when Germany signed an agreement making the resumption of World War I impossible for the then German Empire or its allies.

SINCE THEN, we have gone through World War II, which was won through the leadership and armed power of the United States of America; and the Korean War, which will go down in history as one of the black pages in our record because Gen. Douglas MacArthur was not permitted to bomb the Communists north of the Yalu River, thus allowing the Communists to gain control of the northern portion of Korea, and eventually much of Asia which otherwise now would be free and independent nations of the free world.

NOV. 10 is the birthday of the United States Marine Corps because on Nov. 10, 1775, the Continental Congress ordered that two battalions of marines be raised for service as landing forces with the fleet.

In addition to providing troops to serve on ships in landing forces, it has always been a recognized function of the U.S. Marine Corps to provide mobile, immediately ready, professional, regular units to serve on the land, on the sea, or in the air. Marines have participated in all the wars of the United States, being in almost every instance the first to fight, or among the first to fight. In addition to the well-known big wars of the United States, the Marines have executed more than 300 landings on foreign shores and served in every major naval action since 1775.

THE EMBLEM of the United States Marine Corps is a map of the Western Hemisphere on an anchor and surmounted by a spread eagle. The motto of our Corps is "Semper Paratus" (Always Faithful), which is also the title of the Marine Corps official march, composed by John Philip Sousa when he was the leader of the Marine Corps Band in Washington, D.C.

Even better known is "The Marines' Hymn," which begins "From the Halls of Montezuma to the shores of Tripoli..." but when a Marine Corps band leader wants his musicians to get ready to play this piece, he simply says "Montezuma!"

THE MARINES' Hymn is more than a military march for parades and ceremonies. I have heard it played for regiments about to go into action. I have heard it played in slow, soul-chilling beat reserved for the burial of our honored dead.

One general of the United States Army told me that the Marines' Hymn is an integral part of the "esprit de corps" for which the Marines are famous.

THE UNITED STATES of America right now needs "esprit de corps," which means a common or mutual spirit pervading the members of any body, association or nation. It implies sympathy, devotion, dedication, enthusiasm and a high regard for the body as a whole. We should not worry about what our enemies or the so-called "neutral" nations think about us. We should worry about what we think of them.

Sincere, but misguided people who preach "one world government" are trying to make patriotism an ugly word and want patriots to report to the nearest mental health center for treatment. They are wrong.

Therefore, during this week of sacred memories, let us dedicate ourselves anew to loyalty to our Republic and its Constitution. Honor our patriots, living and dead, "and this be our motto, In God Is Our Trust."
