Communism Earns Win For Speaker

"Communism Follows a Pat-tern" was the subject of first-place winner Donald Payne of Torrance at a recent meeting of South Bay Toastmasters Club 280.

Payne emphasized that the outline of communistic action as promulgated by Lenin was being followed in a predictable manner today by the Russian leaders.

Second-place honors were shared by John Barton of Lo-mita and Dr. William Labit of Walteria debating on "Chiro-practors Have a Place in Medi-cine."

GUESTS attending were Stanley Levenson of Manhattan Beach, Carl Wagoner of Tor-pence, Dale Hamilton of Gardena, Thomas Ryno of Los An-geles, and Robert Seafern of Redondo Beach. November meetings will feature a four-week course on "Fundamentals of Effective Speaking" to be presented by Sell-known guest speakers.

Adventists Drive for Temperance

Members of the Torrance Seventh-day Adventist Church, 1610 Acacia Ave., began a world-wide, every-member pledge signing campaign Saturpledge signing campaign Satur-day. David de Waal, temperance director of the church, said the local congregation is joining some 13,000 other Adventist church congregations of more than 1,000,000 members around the world in the signature cam-naign. paign.

Purpose of the campaign, according to De Waal, is to dra-matize Adventists' belief that alcohol and tobacco are harmful to the body which the Bible calls "the temple of the Holy Spirit."

De Waal said the pledge be-ing signed reads: "Realizing the importance of a healthy body and mind, I promise, God helping me, to totally abstain from the use of alcoholic bey-erages and tobacco in any form Prages and tobacco in any form and to help influence others to do the same." Local signatures will be added to a giant scroll which will be publicly shown at the 49th world convention of Seventh-day Adventists in San Francisco in August, 1962, De Waal said. Pastor Glenn Goffar led his congregation as the first signer.

congregation as the first signer of the pledge.

Pumpkins—How

Many in a Pie

How many pumpkins make a pumpkin pie? That's a good pre-Thanks-giving question and, states Dutch Holland, executive chef at Marineland Restaurant in Palos Verdes, the answer is not: "It all depends on how big e nie you want!"

a pie you want!" According to Holland, the answer is that the pound, not the number, is that the pound, not the number, is the important thing. "It takes a quart of pumpkin purce to make a 10-nch pie," reveals the chef be-hind all the pies soon to be served at Marineland Restau-rant rant. "This can be made usually from one or two pumpkins, weighing a total of two and a half pounds."
