Good Turn Day Set

During the past decade at the holiday season, more than 1,500 handicapped people have looked to scouting for their livelihood.

Out of their need has come an opportunity for scouting to serve, which is done with the annual Good Turn Day service project.

Good Turn Day will be Saturday, Dec. 2.

A WEEK prior to Good Turn Day, each scout, club and explorer who participates will deliver six to 12 large paper sacks to homes in his neighborhood.

They tell the householder about Good Turn Day and ask them to provide employment for the handicapped by filling the bag with repairable clothing.

A promise is made to return during the morning of Good Turn Day, and pick up the sacks with its contents.

SCOUTS TAKE the clothing to a central unit location where it is picked up by trucks from four agencies serving handicapped people.

Receiving the Good Turn are the Salvation Army, Goodwill Industries, St. Vincent de Paul Society, and the Volunteers of America.

They gather and divide the articles, and repairing them keep handicapped people busy earning wages during the winter.

ANY UNIT which has not yet received its sign-up card should contact the Neighborhood Commissioner, who will provide the card.

Ernest J. Loebbecke is chairman of a Citizens Committee which lends its support to the success of Good Turn Day.
