FIREMEN WEAR TIN HATS and raincoats and carry hoses. When the bell rings in the firehouse they jump out of bed and slide down a pole. The ones that don't get hurt sliding down the pole get on the fire engine and turn on the siren and go through red lights. Between fires firemen sit around the firehouse and relax with pleasant things like reading the newspaper. In Torrance more firemen read the Herald than any other newspaper, because they like red hot news and features. More policemen and doctors do, too. And no wonder, for the Herald is out front by far in circulation (it provides the only audited home delivery solid coverage of the Greater Torrance area.) You can count on more from the Herald because more goes into the Herald!

Good Turn Day Set Saturday

The famous Boy Scout slogan, "Do a Good Turn Daily," has great meaning to scouting, and as a way of life, it has deep significance.

Most scouters know the oftended story of their first Code told story of that first Good Turn done by an English scout, which resulted in Baden-Powell's program for boys crossing the Atlantic to Amer-

In a very personal way, too, this slogan has become meaningful to handicapped and less fortunate people because from it has developed the annual Boy Scout Good Turn Day.

SATURDAY, thousands of Cubs, Scouts and Explorers will mobilize for the 11th year for one of the greatest organized Good Turns in America.

ed Good Turns in America.

The tangible benefits of Good Turn Day are the 2,759,480 pounds of clothing that have been collected during the past 10 years.

The benefits include providing work for 1,500 handicapped workers during the slack holiday season, thus giving them independence and a sense of worth, and keeping them off relief rolls.

THE INTANGIBLE benefits go to the scouts . . . they learn the importance of cheerful community service to others. Good Turn Day helps achieve the objective of joining hands in an unselfish venture with thousands of brother scouts.
